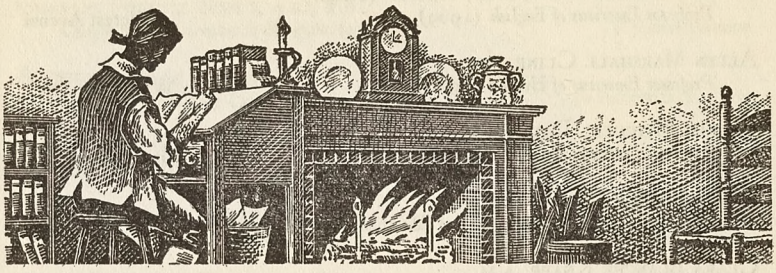
THE COLLEGE



MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE was an indigenous product of 19th century democracy, financed from the thin purses of local citizens, and expressive of multiform culture brought from southern New England.

A miller, two lawyers, a doctor, and a President of Yale University conceived the first plan for Middlebury College on the night of September 30, 1798. The miller was Gamaliel Painter, whose name the oldest college building in Vermont still bears; the lawyers, Seth Storrs, donor of the campus of the men's college, and Samuel Miller who entertained the group at this original meeting; the doctor, Darius Matthews, a probate judge as well as physician; and the Yale President, the great Timothy Dwight.

Some thirty log cabins and frame houses, surrounded by wilderness, comprised the settlement at Middlebury in 1798. No road had yet been built to the pioneer village. The State of Vermont as a part of the Union was only seven years old and its Legislature still roved from town to town for its annual meeting. Grist and saw mills, a few shops for mechanics and blacksmiths, a rough inn and a brewery offered the principal commercial accent to the village. A church had not even been constructed. Still the establishment of a college, as well as a grammar school, seemed imperative to these immigrants from Connecticut.

President Dwight, in his visit of a single night, helped to outline a plan for procedure, but it took two years to persuade the Legislature that the request for founding a college in this wilderness should be honored. A charter was finally granted on November 1, 1800, and Jeremiah Atwater, a Yale graduate, appointed President; seven students were admitted the following day and Middlebury was under way, lodged in a building just completed for the Addison County Grammar School. President Atwater and one tutor comprised the entire administrative and teaching staff. Under them the first student was graduated in August, 1802.

Greek and Latin were the core of the curriculum in those early years. Mathematics—ranging from "vulgar arithmetic" to trigonometry—history, geography, natural philosophy, astronomy, rhetoric, law, logic, metaphysics, and ethics rounded out a four-year program, with vocational purpose noted in such courses as navigation and surveying. A disciplinary system, based on the temper of the law of Moses and the text of Yale College rules and rugulations, kept a student's nose to the academic grindstone. As occasion for new rules of conduct arose, they were properly phrased, and appropriate fines attached. Students were their own janitors, laid their own hearth fires, lugged their water from outdoor cisterns, often cooked their own meals. Daily chapel prayers before dawn began the day and a daily chapel service at dusk ended it.

It was distinctly a man's college. Women were not even admitted inside the rail fence which surrounded the campus protectively. Yet the village of Middlebury did not neglect the education of women. Within three years after the men's college was started, a "Female Academy," one of the first in America, was established here; and it was in Middlebury that Emma Hart (Willard) opened her first school for girls and wrote what has been called the Magna Carta for higher education of women. Although the College did not become coeducational for over eighty years after it was founded, the tradition for women's education was strongly fixed at an early date. In spite of repeated earlier appeals, women were not admitted until 1883, after the alumni had petitioned for the change. Joseph Battell gave the College the land for the women's campus in 1909.

The Middlebury College Summer Language Schools of English, French, German, Italian, Russian, and Spanish, which began with a German session in 1915, have achieved international reputation. The foreign language schools were pioneers in the development of segregated, specialized summer schools for the study of modern languages under a faculty of native instructors. The Bread Loaf School of English and the Bread Loaf Writers' Conference have served as models for similar undertakings in various parts of the country. In 1949, the Graduate School of French in France was inaugurated, followed by the Graduate School of Spanish in Spain in 1951.

EDUCATIONAL PURPOSE

Middlebury is democratic in spirit, cosmopolitan in outlook. It has intentionally remained small in size. It has never had denominational affiliation, but respects and fosters the traditions of Christian faith and moral principles.

The College has adapted the traditional liberal arts thesis to modern education and the curriculum is organized to provide students with a comprehensive and balanced knowledge of the sciences and the arts, language and literature, history and philosophy, social, political, and economic institutions. A three-fold academic program is required of each student: intensive work in one field of planned study; the investigation of other subjects as they relate to this field of concentration; the study of cultural courses to give breadth and perspective. Participation in some organized physical activity is required of all freshman men and freshman and sophomore women.

As a liberal arts college, Middlebury has no vocational or professional schools. The College recognizes, however, that its responsibilities to society as well as to its graduates involve all possible preparation for some adult field of service. All departments provide adequate preparation for graduate study. Faculty advisers give fully of their time in aiding students to a wise arrangement of studies which may lead to the development of mind and personality as well as toward some particular field of service.

Students wishing specialized and advanced training as well as a liberal education may shorten the period of formal education under the cooperative plan between Middlebury and certain recognized graduate schools. See page 41.

Middlebury College is accredited by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and the Vermont State Department of Education.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE AND PLACEMENT

The Placement Office of Middlebury College provides a central source of information on employment for both undergraduates and graduates. Here are filed college credentials, the record of graduate work and further training, and of first and subsequent positions, together with references from teachers and employers.

Opportunities are given to the students to meet representatives of various vocations and professions and to learn of openings and requirements in their fields of interest. Vocational guidance is offered through suggestions as to the career most suitable for particular abilities and the most appropriate academic preparation. The Occupational Library in the Placement Office assembles recent publications on a wide variety of fields.

Business and educational work are major occupations among the alumni. Leading fields among the men are: Medicine, Law, Ministry, Engineering, Banking, Insurance, Manufacturing, Personnel, Accounting, Agriculture, Chemistry, Government and Public Service, Advertising, Publicity, and Journalism. Leading alumnae occupations, beside Education and Business are: Library work, Social work, Medicine, Government and Public Service, Technology, Dietetics, Music, Publicity and Public Relations. Many alumni gladly provide vocational advice for undergraduates.

Middlebury has always sent its full share of teachers into the public and private schools. A special program of guidance for prospective teachers has been organized for the purpose of helping them throughout their college careers to develop as fully as possible those qualities, personal as well as scholarly and professional, which are most to be desired in effective teachers. (See page 86). Middlebury is one of a group of liberal arts colleges which cooperate with Harvard University in giving prospective teachers at the secondary, elementary and nursery school levels a fifth year of study at Harvard leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Teaching or Master of Education. The Fund for the Advancement of Education is at present providing scholarships up to $1500 for this fifth year of study.

R.O.T.C.

The Department of Military Science and Tactics offers courses in Military Subjects under the Army Branch General curriculum. The College requires the successful completion of the two-year Basic Course for all qualified men students as a prerequisite for graduation. The two-year Advanced Course is optional for all students who are selected. Credits count toward graduation as in any other course. The Military Department aims to prepare students for a commission in the Regular Army and the Organized Reserve Corps. See Page 107.

LOCATION

Middlebury College is located on a broad hill overlooking a typical Vermont village and a wide sweep of Champlain Valley, with the Green Mountains visible to the east and the Adirondacks to the west. Most of the permanent college buildings are constructed of grey limestone or white marble, their colonial architecture consistent with the mountain setting of the extensive campus.

The campus consists of about 250 acres for buildings, athletic grounds, and Otter Creek shoreline, and a mountain campus ten miles to the east. The United States Government has taken over the title to an adjacent area, formerly owned by the College, as part of the Green Mountain National Forest. Both tracts are used by students for outings, winter sports, and week-end trips to lodges.

Middlebury is halfway between Burlington and Rutland, Vermont. Students not arriving by automobile will go via the N. Y. Central to Albany, N. Y.; or via the Boston and Maine to Bellows Falls, Vt.; or via the Vt. Central to Essex Junction (Burlington); and make bus connections on the Vermont Transit Lines to Middlebury. Bus time-tables will be supplied on request. There is also airplane service from Boston and New York to Rutland and Burlington via Colonial Air Lines. There is at present no railroad passenger service direct to Middlebury. Baggage should be sent by railway express.

BUILDINGS

Administration Building. The Old Chapel, built of grey limestone in 1836, and for years used as the chief recitation hall, was completely remodeled in 1941 and turned over to administrative offices. Here are located the Old Chapel Room and the offices of the President, the Vice President, the Deans, the Directors of Admission, the Treasurer, the Business Manager, the Registrar, the Director of Publications and Publicity, and the Secretary of the Language Schools.

Battell North and South. These two dormitories were completed and opened in September 1950. They are located on the approach to the Château, and east of Pearsons Hall. They are constructed of grey limestone and house seventy-five students in each building in thirty-seven double rooms and one single room. A third unit is now in the process of construction.

Carr Hall, located on College Street east of Forest Hall, was completed in January 1951. It is a two-story grey limestone building and was constructed in memory of Reid Langdon Carr, '01, a former Trustee. The building contains rooms and a large studio for the use of the Fine Arts Department; and classrooms and offices for other College Departments. The Flanders Ballad Collection is also located here.

The Casa Española, under the direction of a Spanish-speaking person, is a dormitory for women who agree to speak only Spanish in the house.

The Château. Middlebury College was a pioneer in the plan of the segregated language house, where the residents use the foreign language exclusively while in the building. Le Château, built in 1925, one of the oldest and still the largest "maison française" in the United States, is the center of the internationally known French School, in session both winter and summer. Its architecture was inspired by the Pavillon Henri IV of the palace of Fontainebleau. Le Château contains two fine salons, a library, classrooms, offices, a dining room, and dormitory rooms.

Chemistry Building. The Department of Chemistry has its own three-story marble building. In the basement are organic, photographic, and research laboratories, and general storerooms. Lecture rooms are on the first floor; three laboratories, the library of 3,900 volumes, a stock room, and balance rooms are on the second floor; and on the top floor are located general chemical and private laboratories and a lecture room.

Forest Hall was constructed of grey limestone in 1936 and contains sixty-three double suites of two rooms and connecting lavatory; attractive reception rooms and dining rooms. It was built with funds derived from the sale of a large acreage of mountain forest to the federal government.

Gifford Hall, a five-story grey limestone dormitory overlooking the campus, was the memorial gift of the late Mrs. James M. Gifford, widow of a long-time trustee of the College. It was first opened in the fall of 1940.

Hepburn Hall, opened in 1916 as the gift of A. Barton Hepburn, '71, is a five-story dormitory of brown tapestry brick on one of the highest points of the campus.

Hillcrest is a three-story white frame dormitory. Twenty-two single rooms and eight doubles are available.

Hillside Cottage, on the approach to the Château, was built in 1913, and houses the College Infirmary, maintained by the College for the care of women students. One of two resident nurses is always in attendance.

Homestead, the Home Management House on Weybridge Street, is a typical New England home, the interior of which has been remodelled so that it admirably meets the needs of Home Economics 35.1.

Mead Memorial Chapel. This colonial white marble structure of the New England meeting house type, the gift of Ex-Governor John A. Mead, '64, stands on the highest eminence of the campus and the light which shines nightly from its spire is a county landmark. Across its façade are chiseled the words "The Strength of the Hills is His Also." The chancel has accommodations for a vested student choir and contains a large pipe organ. In the tower is a carillon of eleven bells which are played daily by a student from 5:30 to 6:00 while the College is in session. The small Sunderland Memorial Chapel is used for private devotion and special services.

Munroe Hall. Many of the departments have their classrooms and offices in Munroe Hall, the gift of Charles A. Munroe, '96, a former trustee. Opened in February, 1941, the interior is completely modern in every detail while the exterior of gray limestone and marble trim conforms with the general colonial architecture of the older buildings.

Music Studio. This brick building of colonial design is the gift of Mrs. Emily Proctor Telfer, and houses the studios of the faculty, and rooms for instrumental and vocal practice as well as a larger studio with special listening equipment. The Library contains about 500 scores and 2,500 recordings.

The Observatory opened in 1937, has a revolving dome and a mounted machine-driven Newtonian type 12-inch reflecting telescope, which maintains an unobstructed view of the skies.

Painter Hall, built in 1815, is the oldest college building in Vermont, and a fine example of sturdy New England architecture. It bears the name of a founder and first benefactor of the College. The interior was completely remodelled in 1936, and is now a dormitory for men.

Pearsons Hall, a marble dormitory of colonial design which commands a view of both the Adirondacks and the Green Mountains, was opened in 1911.

Porter Hospital, a fireproof brick building with a beautiful view of the Green Mountains, was completed in 1925, the gift of William H. Porter to the College and the residents of Addison County. It has a 45-bed capacity and modern equipment, with graduate nurses always on duty and a resident surgeon and local physicians on call.

Recitation Hall, near Forest Hall, now houses the laboratories of the Home Economics Department; and the offices of the Alumni and Alumnae Secretaries and the Placement Bureau.

Starr Hall, erected in 1861 to complete "Old Stone Row"—Painter, Old Chapel, and Starr—was rebuilt four years later after a fire. It was completely remodelled in 1946. There are double suites of study and bedroom and a few single rooms.

Student Union, a building secured through the Federal Works Agency and opened in September 1947, contains student lounges, student offices, a bookstore, snack bar, College Print Shop, offices of the Chaplain, the Director of Food Service, and other facilities.

Warner Science Hall. The lecture rooms, laboratories, and libraries of Biology, Physics, Geology, Geography and Drafting, are quartered in Warner Science Hall, built in 1901 through the benefactions of Ezra J. Warner, '61, as a memorial to his father, once a trustee of the College. The Natural History Museum on the upper floors houses a large collection of fossils of Vermont and the Champlain Valley, and a complete series of the flowering plants and ferns of the region. The Physics department possesses experimental equipment outstanding in a small college.

Weybridge House is a three-story white frame dormitory on a tree-shaded street close to the campus, with accommodations for twenty students.

Willard House (formerly Battell Cottage) was opened in 1909 and was later enlarged to provide a dining hall accommodating about one hundred and fifty women.

Athletic Facilities. The World War II Memorial Field House, completed in the spring of 1949, is a building 400 feet by 120 feet, located on South Main Street, adjacent to Porter Field and the Fred D. Lang Memorial Field. Accommodations in this building provide for large assemblies, dances, an indoor hockey rink with artificial ice, a regulation and practice basketball courts, a field cage, badminton and volley ball courts, and rooms for offices, lockers, showers, exercise, teams, equipment and trainers. The headquarters, offices, rifle range and supply rooms of the R.O.T.C. unit are also located here.

Since the completion of the Field House, the McCullough Gymnasium has been assigned to the Women's Physical Education Department. It is of marble in colonial style, and was dedicated in 1912. It contains a basketball court, an exercising room, offices, locker rooms, showers, examination room, two handball courts and other facilities.

The Porter Athletic Field of about eighty acres contains a quarter-mile cinder track, a baseball diamond, the football field, a grandstand and bleachers.

The Fred Davis Lang Memorial Field, situated east of the Memorial Field House, consists of approximately four acres of playing fields available for intramural sports.

Nine tennis courts are located on the campus, and the women's campus also includes an archery range and one soccer field. The mountain campus includes the Middlebury College Snow Bowl containing an eight-mile cross-country ski trail, a ski lift, slalom and downhill trails, cabins, and a 50-meter jump, the largest college jump in the country.

THE LIBRARY

It is the aim of the Library to provide as effectively as possible for the intellectual needs of students and faculty, to encourage recreational reading, and to stimulate a love of good books.

Built in 1900 of six kinds of Vermont marble with funds bequeathed by Egbert Starr, the Library's capacity was more than doubled in 1928 by the addition of two wings given by his son, Dr. M. Allen Starr. The collection numbers about 125,000 volumes in all fields of knowledge, plus about 82,000 government documents. Especially noteworthy are the large sections in foreign languages: French, German, Italian, Russian and Spanish. The Library regularly receives over 400 newspapers and periodicals. In addition to the main stacks to which the students have free access, there are also reference, periodicals, and reserve rooms and the Middleburiana and local history collections. During the college year, the Library is open daily, and every evening except Saturday. In addition, the Library serves the five Summer Language Schools as well as the School of English and the Writers' Conference at Bread Loaf.

The Abernethy Library, built around the nucleus of rare books bequeathed by Dr. Julian W. Abernethy and comprising one of the best collections of American literature in the country, is housed in the east wing of the building. It contains some 7,500 volumes in first edition and about 1,000 manuscripts, mainly autograph letters of American authors. The room, furnished by Frank D. Abernethy, brother of the donor, serves the double function of treasure room and quiet haven for reading and study.

Specialized collections of the Library's books are also housed in the Chemistry Building, Warner Science Hall, Carr Hall, Le Château, and the Music Studio.

Helen Hartness Flanders Collection

Another collection unique in its field is the Helen Hartness Flanders Collection of over 9000 items, including Child Ballads, ballads and folk songs of British and American origin, religious songs, fiddle-tunes and call-sets which have been recovered through oral transmission. There are about 4000 mechanical recordings.

Its library contains rare books, broadsides, chap-books, manuscripts, books on folklore as well as American and British regional collections and current folk song journals. The Collection is housed in Carr Hall.

RESIDENCE HALLS

Preference in choice of rooms is given to students in order of classes. Reservations are made by upperclassmen during the spring for the following year, and an advance deposit of $10 is required at the time the room contract is prepared. This room deposit fee is not refundable but will be applied on the student's semester bill should he for any reason not occupy the room at the beginning of the fall term. Students reserving rooms are responsible for the year's rental charge, unless a period of one semester is approved at the time the room contract is signed. All rooms are assigned subject to dormitory regulations, and the terms of the room contract; and occupants are liable for any damage to the dormitory and its furnishings. A student may be required to withdraw from a dormitory at any time for failure to respect college dormitory regulations or quiet hours, and forfeit the room charge for the remainder of the semester. The Superintendent of Dormitories or a duly designated representative of the college has the right to inspect rooms at any time.

Men's Residences. Gifford and Hepburn Halls each accommodate 150 men, Painter and Starr Halls each accommodate 100; and the nine fraternity houses together accommodate approximately 150. Freshmen are not permitted to reside in fraternity houses. In general three students are assigned to dormitory suites. Dormitory rooms are furnished with single or double-deck beds, mattresses, desks, dressers, and chairs. Bedding, pillows, rugs, and other accessoriss are furnished by the occupants. Because of limited floor space, no additional furniture may be moved into dormitory rooms without first obtaining authorization from the Superintendent of Dormitories. Room fees include heat and electricity, and maid service once a week. Students provide their own laundry service.

Student proctors in each section of a dormitory represent the interests of both students and administration in matters concerning dormitory life.

Rooms are ready for occupancy in September on the day preceding the first college exercises and, except for seniors, are vacated in June on the day following the student's last final examination. Dormitories are closed during vacations and students may not have access to rooms during these periods.

All freshmen are required to dine in the College Commons at Gifford or Hepburn Hall. Other students may dine at the Commons, at fraternity houses, or at restaurants in town.

Women's Residences Each of the dormitories for undergraduate women is under the supervision of a house director. Houses vary in size from Forest Hall, accommodating over a hundred students, to the Homestead, for eight Home Economics majors. Fees for room and board are uniformly $340. per semester. Rent includes heat, light and limited maid and janitor service. All rooms are furnished with single bed, pillow, mattress, study table, chiffonier or dresser, and chairs for each student. Students provide their own bed linen and towels and provide for their laundering.

All dormitories are closed during the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Spring vacations.

Women's dormitories include Forest Hall, Pearsons Hall, Hillcrest Cottage, the Château, the Casa Española, the Homestead, Weybridge House, Battell North and South, Willard House, and Porter House. The Château and the Casa Española may accept qualified freshmen who are interested in acquiring facility in spoken French or Spanish.

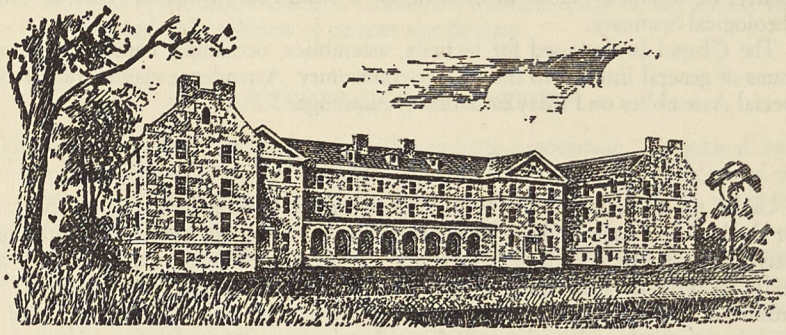
FUTURE PLANS

Middlebury College has never been university-minded. Through more than a century and a half, the Corporation and the Faculty have agreed that it should be a small college. There are now no plans for increasing the enrollment beyond the present level of twelve hundred students, with a slightly higher proportion of men to women.

The quality of a college is of far greater importance than its size. Middlebury considers it essential that all features bear their optimum relations to the enrollment: faculty and staff; curriculum; buildings and equipment. The most important requisite is high quality and adequate numbers of instructing personnel. The endowment of a professorship is probably the finest and most rewarding contribution which can be made to a college. Only a few Middlebury professorships are endowed; many other named memorial chairs are needed. The necessary fund for such an endowment would be from $175,000 to $200,000. Gifts in smaller amounts will also be welcomed for the endowment of various departments for the purchase of books and instructional equipment.

Other important needs of the College are increased space in the Library for book stacks and study facilities; a Dramatics Art Center with workshop and auditorium; improved facilities for the physical sciences; and an Audio Laboratory for the Departments of Speech, Foreign Languages and Music. The Middlebury Development Program is now making a careful study of these and other long-range needs of the College. The Administration will be happy to discuss any of them with friends of the College. Forms of bequest for endowment, general and specific purposes are given on page 115.

COLLEGE LIFE



The college furnishes each student with a pamphlet of regulations containing detailed information as to enrollment, attendance, scholarship, examinations, athletics, and student activities. All students are held responsible for a thorough knowledge of and compliance with these regulations. As part of their training in the development of personal responsibility, all students are held responsible for keeping their parents correctly and currently informed regarding their standing and progress in college.

The College reserves the right to exclude at any time students whose conduct or academic standing it regards as undesirable—without assigning any further reason therefor; in such cases, the fees which are due or which may have been paid in advance to the College will not be refunded or remitted, in whole or in part, and neither the College nor any of its officers shall be under any liability whatsoever for such exclusion.

FRESHMAN WEEK

Directly preceding the opening of the fall semester, there is a three-day period of orientation to assist Freshmen in their adjustments to the college community. The program includes an informal assembly, registration, receptions and social gatherings, lectures by members of the college personnel, and placement tests. Each student is assigned to a faculty counselor. Freshmen are also assisted by upperclass student advisers. (See page 39)

CHAPEL SERVICES

There has always been a weekday Chapel program at Middlebury College. Devotional services, led by the Chaplain, students, and faculty members, are held at 10 A.M. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Juniors and Sophomores are required to attend on Tuesday; Freshmen on Wednesday. Attendance at Monday and Thursday services is voluntary.

Sunday Vespers are held at 5 P.M. Attendance is required of upper and lower classes on alternate Sundays. The Vesper sermons are preached by visiting clergymen, educators, and the Chaplain. Among those who occupied the Middlebury pulpit during 1953–54 were Dr. Paul Lehmann, Princeton Theological Seminary; Dr. Frederick May Eliot of Boston; Chaplain William Spurrier of Wesleyan University; Rev. John C. Laske of Geneva, N. Y.; and Prof. Wilhelm Pauck of Union Theological Seminary.

The Chapel is also used for lectures, assemblies, occasional concerts, and programs of general interest to the college community. Attendance may be required at special Assemblies on Friday or Saturday mornings.

HEALTH MEASURES

Under the direction of the Medical Adviser the College investigates and cares for the health of each student. Every Freshman must present before matriculation a satisfactory health certificate signed by a physician. Physical measurements and health records are filed and corrective exercises recommended when needed. All Freshmen, and Freshman and Sophomore women, who are physically able, are required to participate in organized physical activities at least three periods a week. The College reserves the right to ask the withdrawal of any student whose physical condition is not satisfactory. A student may be requested to have a thorough physical examination once a year or whenever considered necessary by the Medical Adviser or his representatives.

College nurses, under the supervision of the Medical Adviser to the College, authorize all college absences due to illness. Prior to taking an absence, undergraduate men are required to report their illness to the college nurse, either personally or through another student; cases of illness among women are reported through the House Directors. Porter Hospital is fully equipped for any type of case; there is a resident surgeon on the staff. An Infirmary is operated by the College for minor illness among the undergraduate women. A student is entitled each semester to care at either Porter Hospital or the Infirmary to the amount of $21.00. No doctors' bills or the cost of X-rays will be paid for students. For men students, the cost of a physical examination, when taken at the request of the Medical Adviser, is deductible from the $21 allowance.

A psychiatric consultant is a member of the college staff. Although not resident on the campus, he is available for consultation by any student, either directly or through the Dean's office. Fees for consultation and therapy are the responsibility of the student.

EXTRACURRICULAR PROGRAM

The relatively small size of the College permits participation in a variety of extracurricular activities by all undergraduates. Frequent dances, theatrical productions, sports events, debates, and week-end mountain trips, are scheduled throughout the year.

Abernethy Lecture. A writer of distinction is annually invited to address the college upon some aspect of American literature in commemoration of the birthday of Dr. Julian Willis Abernethy, the library's founder. This address is given in Mead Chapel on January 23rd or approximate date.

Concert-Lecture Series. Outstanding artists and lecturers are brought to the campus under the supervision of a faculty committee appointed for that purpose. All regularly enrolled students are admitted to these concerts and lectures without extra charge. Other special lectures are sponsored by departments and organizations.

Conference. An annual two-day symposium is held at which outstanding authorities in the fields of the arts, literature, economics, politics, religion, and science discuss with the students problems of current significance.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The men are governed by the Men's Undergraduate Association, in which all men students have a vote. There are executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Association. Student proctors represent their constituents, and consult with the Dean of Men on any problems of concern to the administration.

The Women's Undergraduate Association, to which all undergraduate women belong, controls the conduct of women students in all matters of college life not under the jurisdiction of the administration. It aims to further a spirit of campus unity and to coordinate and control extracurricular activities. The honor system, on which the Association is organized, encourages high standards of responsibility and cooperation, and assists in maintaining the social standards of the College.

SPORTS

All regularly enrolled undergraduate men are eligible to participate in varsity sports. A student from a junior college entering the junior class or a foreign student admitted with junior status is eligible to participate in varsity sports immediately. Transfers from another four-year college are eligible after residence of one year.

Intramural games are scheduled in basketball, track, golf, tennis, relays, badminton, touch football, volleyball, hockey, softball. Skiing and hockey are special features of the winter calendar.

The Director of Athletics, with the Athletic Council, composed of representatives of the alumni, faculty, and students, supervises the sports program. The College does not assume legal responsibility for the expense in caring for injuries sustained by student athletes, while training for or participating in athletic competition.

A sports program for women, under the direction of the Physical Education Department and the Women's Athletic Association, includes archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, fencing, field hockey, golf, ice skating, riding, skiing, softball, squash, tennis, volleyball, lacrosse. An intramural program is emphasized, with participation in Sports Days with other colleges.

Both colleges take part in the Annual Winter Carnival which, in thirty years since its inception, has assumed an increasingly important role in the social and sports life of the College.

A student who is on warning in two courses at the same time may no longer represent Middlebury in extracurricular activities away from the College for the duration of the period of warning and is required to curtail extracurricular activities which take time from academic work. The detailed regulations governing students on warning are stated in the Student Handbook.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student government is in the hands of the Men's and the Women's Undergraduate Associations. Other administrative organizations include the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils.

Honorary organizations on the campus are: Phi Beta Kappa, Waubanakee, Blue Key, "M" Club, and Mortar Board.

There are also athletic, musical, dramatic, literary, religious, and departmental student clubs.

Nine fraternities are represented: Alpha Sigma Psi, Alpha Tau Omega, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Delta Rho, Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Theta Chi; and six national sororities: Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, and Sigma Kappa.

PUBLICATIONS

Undergraduates of Middlebury College publish the weekly newspaper, The Middlebury Campus. Students assume complete responsibility for the editorial content of the newspaper. The Junior class publishes The Kaleidoscope, student yearbook. By vote of the students, subscriptions for both are placed on the term bills. The Middlebury Handbook, giving information about campus organizations and college regulations, is published annually through the cooperation of student editors and the College.

The Middlebury College News Letter, a quarterly magazine, is published by the College and distributed without charge to Alumni, Alumnae, and friends of the institution.

Bulletins are published eight times during the college year. Periodic numbers include catalogues of the undergraduate session, the Language Schools, the Bread Loaf School of English, the Bread Loaf Writers' Conference, the Middlebury Conference, and the Graduate Schools of French in France and Spanish in Spain.

The Middlebury College Press, inaugurated in 1939, publishes books by men and women associated with the College and Summer Schools. Titles which currently bear its imprint include: Footpath in the Wilderness ($2.00), the only comprehensive volume about "The Long Trail" across the Green Mountain range; Bread Loaf Book of Plays ($3.00), six one-act plays edited by Hortense Moore; Stops ($1.00), an ingenious manual of punctuation contrived by the Bread Loaf Printers; Vermont Chap Book ($1.50), ten illustrated Vermont folk ballads; and three volumes in the Bread Loaf Poets series: Only on the West Wind by Florida Watts Smyth; Orpheus and the Moon Craters by Cedric Whitman; and Time Is Our House by Louisie McNeill. Not Faster than a Walk, a Vermont Journal by Dr. Viola C. White, The Concord Saunterer, by Reginald L. Cook, and the Bread Loaf Anthology are now out of print.

Copies of the books now available may be secured from the Middlebury College Press.

EXPENSES

No general statement can be made regarding the cost of a semester at Middlebury. The location of the College in a frugal Vermont countryside and the absence of metropolitan attractions permit a student to live economically. The College offers a limited number of scholarships to deserving students. The Deans endeavor to assist undergraduates in finding remunerative work both on the campus and in town.

Fixed charges per semester for both men and women:

Tuition	$350.00
Special course fees (see course descriptions)	$1.00 to 12.00
Student Activities Fee—Men	37.00
Student Activities Fee—Women	24.00
Additional fixed charges for men:
Room rent, including heat and electricity (limited)	$105.00 and 115.00
Board	210.00
Additional fixed charges for women:
Room and board	340.00

Payment of tuition entitles a student to not fewer than thirteen nor more than sixteen credits each semester; an additional charge of $24.00 per semester is made for each credit in excess of sixteen. No extra charge will be made, however, for the one credit per semester of the required basic R.O.T.C. course.

For graduate students, tuition is charged at the rate of $350 for a full semester program of fifteen credits, otherwise at the rate of $24. per credit.

A graduation fee of $11 is paid by all seniors.

A fee of $1 is charged when, on authorization of the Administration Committee, a lost student identification card is replaced.

A rebate of $5 per week may be allowed for absence from dining halls for two consecutive weeks or longer.

No refund of tuition, fees, or room rent is made for dismissal or for absence or withdrawal save under exceptional circumstances, or upon entrance into the Armed Services through Selective Service.

Students may not take examinations, receive credits, nor expect honorable dismissal until all financial accounts are settled.

The right is reserved to change quoted charges if necessary.

The College assumes no responsibility for loss of student property through fire or theft.

With the help of the list of standard charges, the individual should be able to estimate approximate expenses for the year. Travel, textbooks, clothing, fraternity or sorority dues, and social assessments should also be considered.

All students will be required to pay tuition, student activities fee, board and room bills for the semester at least three days before classes begin. Term bills will be mailed to students on or before December 1, and April 1. All bills must be settled in full by December 15 and April 15. FAILURE TO MAKE PAYMENT WHEN DUE AUTOMATICALLY CANCELS THE PRIVILEGE OF ATTENDING CLASSES and incurs liability for a late payment fine of $5.00.

The Registrar will issue a transcript of record on request to students wishing to transfer or to secure a statement of their credits for any other purpose. One copy of the college record is furnished free. A fee of one dollar will be charged for a duplicate of the transcript. In the case of students who have received scholarship aid, those who are financially indebted to the College or those who have not surrendered Identification Cards on leaving college, no transcript will be issued until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the Treasurer's office. No fee is charged for transcripts submitted to any branch of the armed service.

UNDERGRADUATE EMPLOYMENT

The College cannot guarantee employment to students and does not encourage them to enter without adequate resources. A limited number of men may expect to find such employment as waiting on tables, assisting in laboratories and offices, serving as janitors, and tutoring. All men wishing part-time work should file an employment application in the office of the Dean of Men. However, prior to matriculation, men should address communications concerning employment to the Director of Admissions. Students wishing to serve as sales representatives in dormitories or fraternity houses must register with the undergraduate committee on concessions, and receive the approval of that committee and of the administrative officer having jurisdiction.

Women may find similar employment including dining room and kitchen service in the dormitories, house duty, light housework in faculty homes, caring for children, typewriting and clerical work, tutoring, and serving as Chapel monitors and campus messengers. Application should be made to the office of the Dean of Women.

Students employed by the College will be expected to apply these earnings to meet their financial obligations to the College; earnings beyond amounts due the College will be paid to the student periodically by payroll voucher.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Middlebury College scholarships are awarded only to students who give evidence of high academic achievement, well-balanced interests, good moral character, and leadership ability. Applicants must also show that they would be unable to attend college without scholarship support. Middlebury College scholarships may be applied toward tuition only. Scholarships are awarded for the academic year, but may be forfeited at any time when a student's grade in a course falls below 70 or because of misconduct. No scholarships are granted for participation in sports or other extracurricular activities.

All scholarships are applied toward acquirement of a Middlebury degree. If the recipient transfers to another institution, the scholarship must be repaid in full before a transcript will be issued. Exceptions will be made for students entering another institution on the Professional School Plans. Scholarships are awarded for amounts ranging from $100 per year to full tuition, depending on financial need of the applicant. An original application must be supported by letters from three responsible professional men (not relatives) who are conversant with the financial background of the applicant and his family. These letters should comment specifically on the finances, character and ability of the applicant. Information entered on the application will be treated confidentially by the College authorities.

Correspondence concerning scholarships for freshmen should be addressed to the Director of Admissions. Upperclass students should apply to their Dean.

State Scholarships: The State of Vermont has made an appropriation for payment to the amount of $200 annually of the tuition of 90 students at Middlebury College who apply before August 1 of each year, three being appointed each year by each senator in the General Assembly from his respective county, provided suitable candidates apply therefor on or before August 1; otherwise from any county in the State. In addition, each senator may award seven more scholarships of $200 each which may at the election of the recipient be used at Middlebury College. Any Vermont student desiring to take advantage of a State scholarship should apply to one of the senators of the county in which he or she resides before August 1 of each year, If the Senator in the applicant's county has already made all appointments, the student should inquire of the Dean regarding a vacancy in another county. Incoming Freshmen should make such inquiry of the Director of Admissions.

Special Vermont Scholarships. Several scholarships of $500 for four years are awarded annually to male residents of Vermont who show promise in qualities of manhood and leadership, strength of character, literary ability, scholastic attainment, and physical vigor. The school record and personal references from the principal and from other citizens of standing in the community are considered in making the selection. All applicants (unless otherwise advised by the committee) come to Middlebury for personal interview with the committee of selection, which consists of the President, two members of the Board of Trustees, the Dean, and the Director of Admissions. The scholarship is tenable for four consecutive years subject to continued residence in Vermont, the maintenance of a high standing and a general record in college which is satisfactory to the committee. Application should be made to the Director of Admissions when applying for admission.

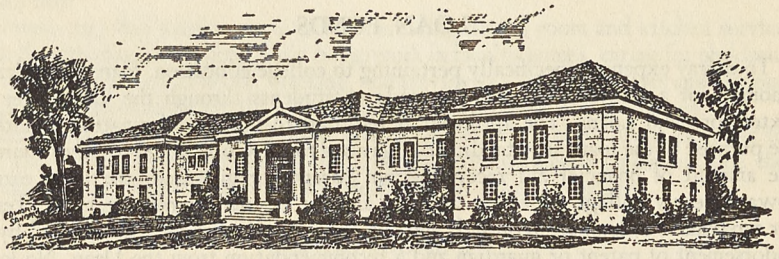
LOAN FUNDS

To defray expenses specifically pertaining to college education, loans in moderate amounts for a limited time may be made to students through the Committee on Extensions and Loans. The applicant is required to furnish information regarding the purpose of the loan, any standing obligations to the College and to other sources, the amount of financial aid received from parents or guardian, the total earned toward yearly college expenses, and the amount of life insurance carried. Terms for repayment of loan are required, and the application must be accompanied by an endorsement of parent or guardian and a recommendation from the Dean. No loans are granted to Freshmen. Application should be made to the Dean. Funds are listed on page 113.

PRIZES

Prizes are awarded for annual public speaking and debating contests, for theses on peace and the United States Constitution, and for distinguished work in Biblical Literature, Latin, Greek, English, and History. Full details are given on pages 113–115.

ADMISSIONS



MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE admits undergraduates for the Bachelor of Arts degree only. Normally, undergraduates are admitted only in September. The freshman class of both men and women is limited by the capacity of the dormitories and an early application is advised.

The number of applications from candidates meeting the minimum requirements below, far exceeds the number that may be accepted. Admission to Middlebury is, therefore, both competitive and selective. Academic ability and achievement, community citizenship and leadership, character, and personality are considered most important.

A satisfactory certificate of health must be presented before matriculation. Successful candidates are required to fill out medical blanks which are supplied by the College. No candidate is finally admitted until the preparatory record is complete and the health requirements met.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The selection of candidates is based on information obtained from the following:

the secondary school record, including rank in class
the recommendation of the school principal and teachers
the College Entrance Examination Board's Scholastic Aptitude and Achievement Tests a personal interview with the Director of Admissions, or with a designated representative.

Secondary School Preparation. Candidates must be graduates of approved secondary schools and are normally required to present 16 admission units in at least 12 of which the candidate must present "college certification" grades (respectively determined by each individual school). A unit represents a year's study of a subject in secondary school, the class meeting four or five times a week.

Any candidate who has questions about his preparation is urged to write to the Director of Admissions as early in the secondary school course as possible.

The required unit distribution is as follows:

English (4 years)	4 units
*†Foreign Language	3 units in one and 2 units in another, or 4 units in one
History	1 unit
Algebra	1 unit
Plane Geometry	1 unit
Laboratory Science	1 unit

*At this time, there is no admission requirement in Foreign Languages for men (see next paragraph). Women with four years of preparation in mathematics, science, or history may meet the basic foreign language requirement with three years of one language. Women with three years in mathematics or science may meet the requirement with two years in each of two languages. Both exceptions carry the provision that an additional year of a language previously studied, or two years of a new language, shall be taken in college.

†Effective with the Class of 1961 (freshmen entering in September 1957) both men and women must present at least two units in sequence of an ancient or modern foreign language for admission to Middlebury College.

The remaining units may be made up from the subjects listed below:

Language	Social Science	Science
Latin	Ancient History	Mathematics
Greek	European History	Chemistry
French	English History	Physics
German	American History	Biology
Italian	Social Studies	Physical Geography
Spanish	Problems of Democracy	Botany
Russian	Economics	Zoology
	Sociology

With the approval of the Committee on Admissions, however, other academic subjects commonly offered in secondary schools may be substituted for not more than two of the electives listed above. Candidates should submit a syllabus for each course they wish to substitute.

General Science is not accepted as satisfying the laboratory science requirement. Credit may be allowed for it as an elective if an acceptable laboratory science course is also offered. No entrance credit is allowed for less than two years of a foreign language.

Candidates contemplating a major in English or a foreign language are urged to present three years of Latin. Candidates interested in mathematics, chemistry, physics, or economics should present three years of mathematics (elementary and intermediate algebra, and plane geometry).

The College cooperates with the School and College Study of Admission with Advanced Standing. Accepted students who have taken special examinations under this plan will have the results submitted to the Director of Admissions. Any advanced credit to be allowed will be decided tentatively at the opening of college.

Examinations. All candidates are required to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, and three of the Achievement Tests, not later than March of the senior year, whether or not they have been taken previously. The Achievement Tests shall be taken in English Composition, and in any two of the following subjects: a foreign language, science, social studies, or mathematics. The results of the tests are sent directly to the college as requested by the applicant, but the exact scores are not revealed to the candidate.

If the student cannot obtain the application forms from his secondary school, he should write directly to the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, for the Bulletin of Information and directions for the filing of applications, and lists of examination centers. When requesting the forms, candidates should state when they wish to take the tests.

The fee for the Scholastic Aptitude Test alone is $6.00, for the three Achievement Tests alone is $8.00, and for the Scholastic Aptitude Test and the Achievement Tests on the same day is $12.00.

All applications and fees should reach the office of the Board not later than the dates specified below:

	For examination centers located
Date of Tests	In the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, the Canal Zone, Mexico, or the West Indies	In Europe, Asia, Africa, Central and South America, and Australia
December 4, 1954	November 13	October 16
January 8, 1955	December 14	November 20
March 12, 1955	February 19	January 22
May 21, 1955	April 30	April 2
August 10, 1955	July 20	June 22

Applications received after these closing dates will be subject to a penalty fee of three dollars in addition to the regular fee.

Candidates are urged to send in their applications and fees as early as possible, preferably at least several weeks before the closing date, since early registration allows time to clear up possible irregularities which might otherwise delay the issue of reports. Applications received at a Board office later than one week prior to the date of examination cannot be accepted.

PROCEDURE FOR ADMISSION

Inquiries regarding admissions should be addressed to the Director of Admissions for Men or the Director of Admissions for Women. Application forms will be furnished on request. Application papers must be accompanied by an application fee of $5 for men candidates, or by a fee of $10 for women candidates. This fee is not refundable and will not be applied to term bills. The right is reserved to close the application list for women candidates on March 1st. All candidates are urged to visit the College at any time after the beginning of the junior year for a personal interview.

Certificate forms for the secondary school record are sent directly to the Principal of the school.

Transfers. Only a limited number of students can be accepted by transfer from other colleges and universities, and all such students must come from approved institutions of collegiate rank. A candidate for admission with advanced standing should present a detailed transcript of work done in the institution previously attended, including a list of preparatory subjects accepted by that institution and a statement of honorable dismissal.

Applicants for admission with advanced standing are expected to meet the same standards with regard to curricular preparation, character, and personality that apply to candidates for admission to the Freshman Class. In addition, transfer applicants are required to present satisfactory scores in the College Transfer Test of the College Entrance Examination Board.

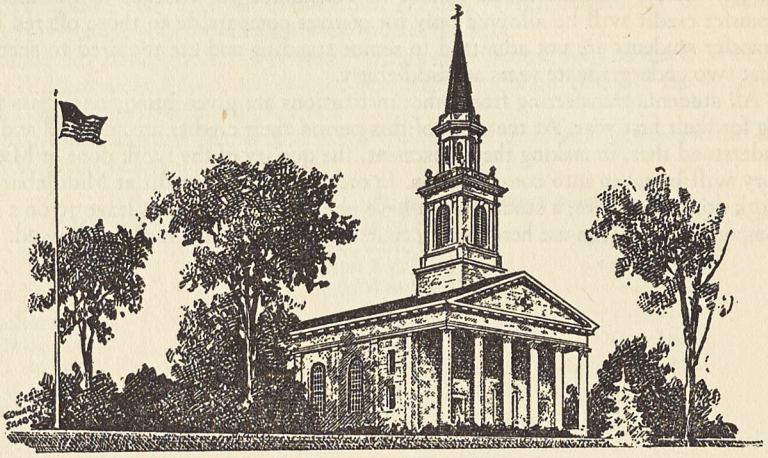
No student who has left another institution for reasons of scholarship will be granted any academic favor which would not be extended by that institution. In other words, if a student is denied the privilege of returning to the original college for any reason whatsoever, he cannot be considered for transfer to Middlebury. Transfer credit will be allowed only for courses comparable to those offered here. Transfer students are not admitted to senior standing and are required to spend at least two undergraduate years at Middlebury.

All students transferring from other institutions are given provisional class ranking for their first year. At the close of this period their credits are adjusted and it is understood that, in making the adjustment, the quality of the work done at Middlebury will be taken into consideration. In order to receive credit at Middlebury for work done elsewhere, a student must have obtained a grade of at least 70 on a scale comparable to that in use here in each course for which credit is to be allowed.

CURRICULUM



MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE confers the one undergraduate degree, Bachelor of Arts. It also confers the graduate degrees, Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Modern Languages.

UNDERGRADUATE WORK

The purpose of the liberal arts curriculum offered at Middlebury is to give every student a detailed knowledge of the work covered in at least one department, and to correlate with this knowledge a general understanding of many cultural subjects. Faculty advisers assist students in preparing a well-integrated program of courses.

To obtain the variety of interests and breadth of view which graduation from a college of liberal arts implies, undergraduates are urged to plan their college program and distribute their selection of courses wisely.

Previous to matriculation, all Freshmen are furnished with complete course descriptions and registration cards on which they designate their selection of courses for the first semester. During Freshman Week, each student is assigned a faculty counselor who gives further individual assistance in planning a course of study. Before the end of the student's second semester, his faculty counselor assists him in forming a tentative program for the remainder of his college course. A charge of $5 will be made for enrollment after the designated registration period.

The normal program of study for each student is four or five courses. Freshmen will be required to elect five courses in addition to Physical Education and basic R.O.T.C. for men. No regular student will be allowed to elect fewer than thirteen credits per semester without permission of the Dean and the Chief Adviser. A student may not carry more than sixteen credits unless he has an average of 80 or above, or is in his senior year, without permission of the Dean and the Chief Adviser. A charge of $24 a semester is made for each credit above sixteen, excepting the credit for the basic R.O.T.C. course.

Registration for the Fall semester is to be scheduled immediately following Easter vacation: Freshmen—April 18 to 22; Sophomores and Juniors—April 25 to 29.

Undergraduate work is reckoned in credits and courses. A credit means one period of class work per week for one semester. All courses, unless otherwise stated, are conducted three hours a week, so that the normal amount of work required is from thirteen to sixteen hours a week, or the equivalent, exclusive of preparation. Some courses require laboratory work in addition to class work, and in general credit is assigned to such courses on the basis of one credit for every three hours of laboratory work.

While the amount of time required for thorough preparation differs in different studies and for different students, every student should allow at least two hours for the preparation of each hour of recitation; the best results of collegiate training cannot be expected from less.

Freshman Requirements. In each of the first two semesters the election of English Literature for Freshmen and Contemporary Civilization is prescribed by faculty regulation. The remaining three courses are free electives and may be chosen from any subjects open to Freshmen. At present these include introductory courses in Biology, Chemistry, History, Home Economics, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Speech, and any of the ancient or modern languages. Only those courses which are numbered from 10 through 19 are open to Freshmen, except that Freshmen enrolled in a course within a Department may be assigned to a more advanced course by that Department upon their demonstration of special proficiency. Those who have taken a modern language in high school and have acquired satisfactory preparation may continue the subject in intermediate or advanced courses. It is advisable that students complete their science requirement during their first or second year. Biology and Chemistry are open to Freshmen; Geology and Physics usually only to Sophomores.

Fields of Planned Study. Before the end of his second semester each student, in consultation with a faculty adviser, determines upon a Field of Planned Study to be pursued through the remainder of his course. A Field of Planned Study is a group of courses so planned as to form an integrated and coherent whole, attention being paid to the advantageous sequence of courses within a department and to the coordination of courses in different departments. As a rule each Field of Planned Study centers around some one department which sponsors the plan, the courses in the department being designated the major, those in other departments being called cognate courses. A joint major is the basis of a Field of Planned Study sponsored by two departments which cooperate for that purpose, in which case two-thirds of the work may be divided between those departments. A number of Special Interdepartmental Majors are also offered in particular areas; these are described under Courses of Instruction at the beginning of each Division.

The Faculty advisers will act as consultants in the selection of a Field of Planned Study. When one has been definitely chosen, a permanent adviser for the remainder of the college course is assigned to the student by and from the department sponsoring the plan chosen.

Distribution of Electives. The following regulations are prescribed for the choice of studies, and each student before graduation shall meet these requirements as to a major and the distribution of work.

1. At the end of the student's second semester a major study shall be chosen, and the maximum and minimum requirements for work in that department shall be fulfilled before graduation. The minimum requirement for a major is 24 credits. The maximum requirement in any department is 42 credits out of the total of 120 credits.

2. A certain number of credits, not exceeding 30, may be required in such cognate courses in other departments as the major department may specify in order to have a unified field of study.

3. Each student before graduation is required to take, in addition to the Freshman requirements,

Group A. Two semester courses chosen from among the following literatures: English, American, Greek, Latin, French, German, Russian (in English), Spanish, Italian; or courses in Philosophy, Religion; or any courses of a literary and cultural rather than a technical character in Drama, Fine Arts and Music. (Courses that have been approved for the purposes of this requirement are designated § under Courses of Instruction.)

Group B. Two semester courses from the following: Economics, History, Political Science, Russian History (in English) or Sociology.

Group C. Two semester laboratory courses in one of the following departments: Biology, Chemistry, Geology, or Physics.

4. Effective with the Class of 1961 (freshmen entering in September 1957) all students will be required to demonstrate proficiency in an ancient or modern foreign language before graduation. Three years of effective language study in secondary school, or two years in college, will normally give the required proficiency. This requirement may be met in any one of the following ways:

(a) by a satisfactory score on the College Board Achievement Test, at the third-year secondary school level,

(b) by passing, preferably in the freshman year, a proficiency test prepared by the Middlebury College Language Division, and covering either a speaking or a reading knowledge, at the option of the student,

(c) by passing an intermediate, second-college-year course, or a more advanced course, in a language previously studied,

(d) by passing a minimum of twelve semester hours in a language, the study of which is started at Middlebury.

Freshmen may not elect more than one course in a subject in a semester, Sophomores not more than two, and Juniors and Seniors not more than three. Not more than 42 credits in any subject may be counted toward the degree, without the permission of the Chief Adviser.

Other Regulations. A student who for any reason is not satisfied with his first choice of a major may before the end of his fourth semester change to another subject, but assurance should first be obtained from the department to which the change is proposed that the student will be able to meet its requirements in the remainder of his course. After the close of the fourth term changes in a major subject will be allowed only for exceptional reasons and with the consent of the Chief Adviser.

No change in studies will be allowed during the first week of the classroom work except by the permission of the adviser. During the second week of classroom work a change may be made only with the permission of the Adviser, Chief Adviser and the instructor involved, and the payment of a fee of $5. The fee must be paid to the Treasurer before the new admittance card is given to the instructor. After the second week of classroom work no change may be made except within a department and upon the initiative of the instructor.

No refund of fees for extra courses or for the use of laboratories will be allowed after the second full week of the term.

To be eligible for a degree, a student must complete 120 credits. Only 24 semester hours of D grade are allowed to count toward a degree.

Women are required to complete four semesters of Physical Education; men are required to complete two semesters.

The last two semesters must be spent in residence at Middlebury, except as provided in the Technical School Plan or the Professional School Plan.

The Committee on Military Service will consider any special curricular problems of veterans and grant waivers to the usual requirements when circumstances involve such factors as health, extended interruption of education, and family responsibilities. Credits for all service training are approved by this Committee. Requests for special consideration should be submitted to the Dean of Men who serves as Chairman of the Committee.

"Successful completion of a year" for draft board certification is defined as "approved for continuance in college."

In order to transfer credit for work done at another recognized educational institution, a student must submit an official transcript. A grade of 70 or above, on a scale comparable to that in use here, must have been attained in each course submitted for credit. Each case will be considered individually on its own merits, and must receive the approval of the chairman of the student's major department, the Chief Adviser, and the Dean. Whenever possible, the student should secure advance permission to attempt such work at another institution.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL PLAN

Middlebury is one of a group of liberal arts colleges which are cooperating with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the Columbia University School of Engineering, and the Duke University School of Forestry, in a combined five-year course of study, in order to facilitate the combination of a liberal arts course with education in science, engineering, architecture, forestry, or city planning. Under this arrangement, and by properly planning his studies, a student of high standing may pursue a combined five-years' program in which the first three years are spent at the college and the last two at one of the above Technical Schools, leading to the Bachelor's degree from each institution. Thus one year is saved, and the degrees of both institutions and the experience of residence in both are secured.

Every student who desires to follow this combined plan should register his name with the Chairman of the Technical School Committee, before selecting his freshman courses, as it is essential to plan his entire three years' work at Middlebury so that, on the completion of his third year, he will have satisfied all requirements. Final approval rests with the Faculty.

PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL PLAN

A well qualified student preparing for a professional school who wishes to limit his college education to three years may apply to the Committee on Pre-Professional

Training for permission to transfer to a professional school after six semesters at Middlebury and be awarded the Middlebury degree upon receipt of the professional degree. This privilege will be granted in individual cases only to well qualified students who have completed ninety credits at Middlebury, in at least seventy-two of which a grade of seventy or above has been earned, and who rank in the upper half of their class during the fifth and sixth semesters. Such students must complete the Group A, B, and C, and foreign language requirements (page 40), and have their programs approved by the Committee on Pre-Professional Training. The professional school shall be on the accredited list published by the United States Office of Education, and the work taken there shall be of at least two full academic years' duration. Because most professional schools prefer candidates with a baccalaureate degree, only superior students are likely to be able to take advantage of this plan.

Candidates for the Middlebury degree under the Pre-Professional Plan should apply to the chairman of the committee, Associate Professor Harold B. Hitchcock, not later than the beginning of their sophomore year. Final approval rests with the Faculty.

SCHOLARSHIP

As part of their education in assuming personal responsibilities, students are held responsible by the College for keeping parents correctly and currently informed regarding their standing and progress in college. Final grades, mid-semester grades of freshmen, and second course warnings, of all students under 21 are sent to parents; other reports of class standing are sent to parents only by periodic request to the Dean.

The final evaluation of a freshman's work is normally postponed until the end of the college year; however, the academic standing of all freshmen is reviewed at the end of the first semester, and freshmen who have not demonstrated the ability and incentive to carry on college work may be asked to withdraw. Any freshman who receives three failing grades at the end of the first semester is dropped from college.

At the end of any semester (after the first semester of the freshman year) any student who receives failing grades in two courses or an average below 65 is dropped from college.

At any time when a student is failing a course, consistently receiving grades below 70, or in any way neglecting the obligations of a course, he is placed on warning for a minimum of four weeks and may take no more unexcused absences in the course for that period. The penalty for taking such an unexcused absence is loss of one-half credit. At the end of the four-week period he may be taken off warning by the Dean if the instructor certifies that his work has improved sufficiently to warrant this action.

A student who is on warning at the same time in two courses may no longer represent Middlebury in extracurricular activities away from the College for the duration of the period of warning and is required to curtail extracurricular activities which take time from academic work. A student who is on warning at the same time in three courses is dropped from college, if it is the consensus of the instructors and the Dean that the failure is due to lack of application or to negligent attitude.

After being dropped from college for unsatisfactory academic work, a student may be readmitted only by action of the Administration Committee. A student dropped in June for academic failure will not be considered for readmission until he has satisfactorily completed one full academic year at an accredited institution. A student dropped at mid-years may be considered for readmission the following September provided he has obtained a satisfactory record for one semester and one summer session at an accredited institution. No student may be readmitted more than once.

Scholarship is graded on the scale of 100. Grades are interpreted as follows:

A	90 to 100	Excellent
B	80 to 89	Good
C	70 to 79	Fair
D	60 to 69	Passing*
F	Below 60	Failure

A student who has completed 24 credits will be ranked as a Sophomore; 54 credits, a Junior; 84 credits, a Senior.

Reports of standing are made to the Registrar by the instructors at the end of each semester. Upperclassmen may obtain final grades directly from the Registrar's Office, Freshmen may obtain them from their advisers. The instructors are not permitted to give out final grades.

Students who attain an average of 85 in their courses at the end of a semester, and who have no grade below 80 are placed on the Dean's List.

ATTENDANCE

The College considers it the responsibility of every student to attend all scheduled meetings of a class and to complete all assignments at the time specified by the instructor. Middlebury recognizes the value of extracurricular activities, and all students are encouraged to participate in social, athletic and cultural functions outside of scheduled class work, but participation in these events cannot be at the expense of curricular obligations.

Since the seriousness of absence varies among different types of courses, instructors announce to their classes their individual attendance requirements, and specify the conditions under which work may be made up after necessary absence.

Whenever, in the opinion of the instructor, a student's work in a course is being impaired by reason of non-attendance, the Dean is informed and the student required to consult the instructor and to comply with any demands made for completing the work missed. When an absence is not justified, the student may not make demands on an instructor's time out of class.

While on warning in a course, a student may take no unexcused absences in that course, under penalty of loss of one-half credit for each absence.

Before a necessary absence is taken in any course, all students are advised to prepare an "Explanation of Absence" form in the Dean's Office (in the Nurse's Office, if illness is the cause) and submit the form to the instructor. Absences are not excused by the Dean or Nurse prior to a student's being placed on warning, except for necessary absence from a pre-announced test or for absence due to an emergency on the day preceding or following a College recess. The explanations are for information only. The Dean's Office periodically submits to instructors names of students who are absent while participating in approved extracurricular activities.

Absences on the last day of classes preceding a College recess, or on the first day of classes or exercises following a College recess, may be excused only for emergencies. Excuses are not granted for travel time, vacation employment, transportation arrangements and appointments away from College except in the case of scholarship holders and students on the Dean's list. One-half credit is deducted for each unexcused absence, including Chapel, on these days.

*To be eligible for a degree, a student must complete 120 credits, of which not more than 24 may be of D grade.

All students are required to attend one Daily Chapel service each week, and a Vespers service on alternate Sundays. Three unexcused absences may be taken each semester from Daily Chapel or Required Assembly and one from Sunday Vespers service, exclusive of absences taken while participating in recognized extracurricular activities away from College or while executing personal responsibilities approved by the Dean. A student who exceeds this number is placed on Chapel warning, and for each unexcused absence taken after being placed on Chapel warning, one-half credit is forfeited. If a student is placed on Chapel warning during the last four weeks of the semester, the Chapel warning period extends through the following semester.

Reasons for absence which will usually be accepted as justifiable by the instructor and the Dean are necessary employment, illness (verified by the Nurse or Physician), participating in recognized extracurricular events, family emergencies.

Tardiness or unauthorized early departure from a class or exercise is recorded as an absence.

A student absent from a pre-announced test, without excuse, receives a failure for the test and is not granted the privilege of a make-up.

GENERAL EXAMINATION

During his senior year, each student before receiving the A.B. degree must pass the General Examination or its equivalent as required by his major department. One of the important objectives of Middlebury College is to provide for each of its students a well-integrated and unified body of intellectual experience. It wishes not only to give them factual and technical knowledge, but it wishes to assist them in developing that deep and broad understanding which comes from the assimilation of knowledge and from a comprehension of all parts of their major field and its relationship to other fields. With this objective in view, each Division or Department defines and announces its objectives of over-all correlation and comprehension, in terms of its own subject matter, and informs its students regarding procedures to be followed. A brief statement of the plan adopted is made in this catalogue at the head of the program of instruction for each department. A student electing to complete a major in each of two departments must pass the General Examination or its equivalent in both departments.

HONORS

As a recognition of superior scholarship and ability the faculty has instituted a system of honors to be awarded at the completion of the college course. Honors are of two classes: commencement honors and departmental honors.

Commencement honors are awarded for high scholastic rank for the four years of the college course. The degree of A.B. is conferred cum laude upon those who have attained an average rank, for the entire course, of 85 to 89; magna cum laude if that rank is 90 to 94; summa cum laude if it is 95 or above. No student is eligible for these honors who has not done at least four terms' work in residence at Middlebury College.

Departmental honors are awarded as an incentive to special work and a recognition of superior ability in the student's major field of work. Since there is considerable variation in the nature of the work of different departments, each department may provide for honors work in such of the following plans as is best suited to its particular requirements and methods of work.

Plan A. A candidate for honors is required to complete some assigned project or subject for individual study and investigation, and to pass a special examination by the department upon such project and related material. This examination may be written or oral or both. The honors program may include a thesis, but such thesis shall not be in lieu of the examination.

Plan B. A department may offer a special honors course to be taken by qualified students as one of the five courses of their senior year. Such a course will be of an advanced and comprehensive character.

Plan C. Honors may be awarded by a department by a unanimous vote of the department, and with the approval of the departmental heads of the division, to students who have distinguished themselves by outstanding achievements and a high quality of work in their major field, even though they have not applied for honors or taken the honors program.

All departmental honors are subject to the following regulations:

1. Students desiring to work for honors shall consult with their major department at the end of their junior year, and earlier if possible, with the exception noted in Plan C.

2. In order to be eligible to work for honors a student must have a general average of 80 in his college course and an average of 80 in the department in which honors are sought. This average must be maintained during the senior year. To receive honors, a student must obtain a grade of 85 or above in the work comprehended in the honors program.

3. In order to receive High Honors, a student must have a general average of 85 in his college course, an average of 85 in the department in which honors are sought; and a grade of 90 in the work comprehended in the honors program.

4. A student completing satisfactorily an honors program under Plan A or B in which an examination of broad scope is a part of the honors requirement, may by a vote of the department be exempted from the general departmental examination.

These honors will be printed on the Commencement program and in the next annual Catalogue, and will be certified to, when requested, by a written certificate from the Registrar and the chairman of the department, stating the nature and quality of the extra work done.

HONORARY APPOINTMENTS

The faculty, under the direction of the Corporation, gives honorary Commencement appointments; to the senior man and senior woman attaining highest rank, the appointment of Valedictorian, and to those second in rank, the appointment of Salutatorian.

Transfer students are not eligible for these appointments.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The Middlebury Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society is the Beta of Vermont. Members of each senior class, who are of good character, and who have attained an average rank of 89 for six terms at Middlebury, or an average rank of 87.5 for eight terms at Middlebury, are eligible for membership, up to a maximum of 15 per cent of the class in both colleges.

Students graduating from Middlebury who have transferred from other colleges are eligible if they have completed six terms at Middlebury with an average grade of 89 or above, or if they have completed four terms at Middlebury with an average grade of 90 or above.

GRADUATE WORK

During the academic year, Middlebury College provides graduate courses in the Chemistry and French departments, for students desiring to work toward a Master's degree. Graduate students may be enrolled in courses only if admitted by the Committee on Graduate Work. Correspondence concerning admission should be directed to the Chairman.

In addition to courses regularly presented as graduate courses, some courses will, under certain conditions, be raised to graduate level. Correspondence should be directed to the head of the department concerning specific details.

The degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Science may be earned by graduate work completed during the regular college year, or in the Summer Language Schools, in accordance with the following regulations:

1. The candidate must have a baccalaureate degree from this College, or from another institution whose course of study and requirements for graduation are approved by the Committee on Graduate Work.

2. To obtain the degree of Master of Arts, or Master of Science, two full terms in residence and the completion of work equivalent to thirty credits will be necessary. This requirement of residence may also be met by attendance at the Summer Language Schools. Two-thirds of the required work must be completed at Middlebury College.

3. Candidates must satisfy the department chairman, and the Committee on Graduate Work of their fitness to undertake the proposed program of graduate study.

4. Graduate work done in other institutions may be transferred toward the Middlebury degree, under certain specific limitations which may be learned from the Committee.

5. Two-thirds of the required work must consist of graduate courses in the department of the major; the remaining one-third may consist of cognate courses of graduate grade prescribed by the department in which the major work is undertaken. A minimum grade of 80 shall be maintained in each course counting toward the degree.

6. Tuition fees are the same as those charged for undergraduate work, i.e., at the rate of $350. for a full semester program of fifteen credits; otherwise at the rate of $24. per credit. (See page 31). An additional fee of $15 is required for the diploma.

GRADUATE SCHOOLS ABROAD

Middlebury College also operates a Graduate School of French in France, and a Graduate School of Spanish in Spain. Selected groups of graduate students are prepared by a preliminary summer of study at Middlebury, and then are enrolled for the academic year in the University of Paris, or the Universities of Madrid or Salamanca. These students follow a coordinated program of advanced instruction on linguistics, phonetics, literature, institutions, and culture. They are enrolled in the various institutes or branches of the foreign university system, where the instruction is given by the regular faculty. The programs are under the supervision of resident representatives of Middlebury College, and the final examinations are administered under their direction. Successful candidates receive the Middlebury College Master of Arts degree. A special bulletin on the programs will be sent on request.

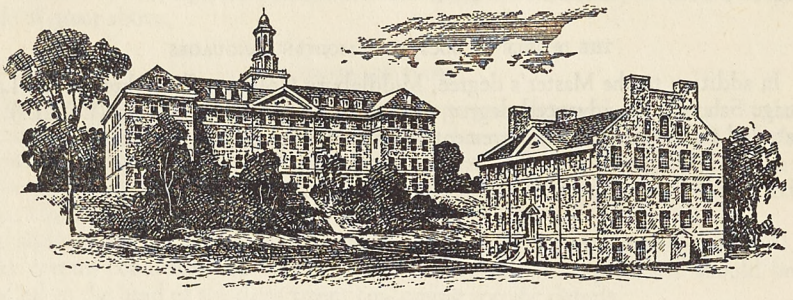
THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MODERN LANGUAGES

In addition to the Master's degree, Middlebury College offers, through the Language Schools, the advanced degree of Doctor of Modern Languages (D.M.L.). A detailed statement of the requirements for this degree will be sent on request.

COURSES



THE DEPARTMENTS of instruction are organized in five Divisions: Humanities, Foreign Languages, Social Sciences, Natural Sciences, Military Science and Tactics; and are described in this catalog in the following order:

Division of the Humanities

Home Economics
Mathematics
Physical Education
Physics

Division of Military Science and Tactics

Some courses are given as year-courses, with a final examination at the end of the year. Some courses are given by semesters; first-semester courses are usually designated by .1 after the number; second-semester courses by .2. Each of these is a separate unit with its final examination. The figures .1 and .2 after the same number for two courses indicate that those two courses are complementary, and together form an instructional program. The first course may or may not be prerequisite to the second and it may or may not be required to take both courses.

Unless otherwise indicated, courses meet three times a week on alternate days. Year-courses carry six credits, and semester courses carry three credits. Courses numbered 10–19 are usually taken by freshmen; 20–29, by sophomores; 30–39, by juniors; 40–49, by seniors. Schedules are cleared on this basis, and conflicts will thus be most easily avoided.

At the head of each departmental section, the requirements for a major in that department are described, together with recommended courses, and the plan chosen by the department for fulfilling the General Examination requirement. Special Divisional Majors are described at the beginning of each Division.

Prerequisites to a course are shown in parentheses. Courses not being offered in 1954–55 are bracketed. Abbreviations include: Lab., laboratory period; Lect., lecture period; D., Drama. Courses marked with a section mark (§) are approved for election in Group A. (See page 40.)

The College reserves the right, without further notice, to cancel any courses herein described, or to make any other changes in staff, fees, and courses which may be deemed necessary.

Special Major in American Civilization

The Departments of American Literature, History, and Political Science sponsor a Major in American Civilization designed to meet the needs of students who wish to acquire a broad and comprehensive knowledge of the history, institutions, and culture of their country rather than to specialize in any one particular department. The major comprehends the following required courses which, as far as possible, should be taken in the order designated: First year: Pol. Sc. 11; Second year: Hist. 22, Am. Lit. 21, Geog. 25.1 and 36.2; Third year: Hist. 36, Am. Lit. 31, Sociol. 12.1; Fourth year: Pol. Sc. 40 or 41, Am. Lit. 44.1 Fine Arts 36.1 and Research Course 50 in one of the three departments. Required General Examination: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, and reading lists.

Special Major in the Arts

Administered by Mr. Volkert, Mr. Healy, Mr. Carter

With the realization that a study of mankind in his cultural manifestations is a liberal education, a Field of Planned Study is offered in the Departments of Music, Drama, and Fine Arts, known as an Arts Major. The student may acquire a general conception of these fields, and further extend his interest by advanced study or practice in any or all of them. Students interested in majoring in this field should consult the committee as early as possible.

Required for a Major: Fine Arts 25; Drama 23; Music 23; plus a minimum of nine credits, exclusive of the General Examination, in advanced courses of a literary or historical nature in one of the three departments; also either Phil. 23 or Hist. 45. Required General Examination: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, and reading lists.

The study of history is thought by the committee to be a proper foundation for interest in this field. Attention is called to the fact that as a means of expression, courses in creative writing may be valued as a complementary expression, as well as the course known as Dance as an Art Form (Fine Arts 37).

PRACTICAL MUSIC

The aim of this Department is to present music for its value as literature and as a record of one aspect of human achievement, not as professional training. We strongly encourage students to improve performing techniques as a necessary means of cultivating the art. However, no credit toward graduation is given for private study of practical music. The College will assist the student as far as possible in securing adequate instruction when not provided by the regular staff.

Students who wish private instruction in piano, voice, organ, violin, viola, violoncello should enroll with the Chairman of the Department.

Fees are to be paid to the Treasurer's office at the beginning of each semester. No rebate is allowed for lessons missed except in the case of continued illness. Students may be accepted for less than a full semester, in which case fees will be prorated.

M–1 Private Instruction in the Study of the Pianoforte

1 lesson weekly, use of piano 1 hour daily. Fee $60.00 per semester.

M–2 Private Instruction in Organ Playing

1 lesson weekly, use of organ 1 hour daily. Fee $65.00 per semester.

M–3 Private Instruction in Voice

1 lesson weekly, use of piano 1 hour daily. Fee $55.00 per semester.

M–4 Private Instruction in Violin and Viola

1 lesson weekly. Fee $50.00 per semester.

Music Library

The department equipment, augmented in 1937 by gifts from the Carnegie Corporation, now includes several thousand records, scores, and a cross reference file of the records. The collection kept in the Music Studio is available for both class work and student audition at hours set by the head of the department. Special listening equipment is available.

Music Organizations

The College Chamber Players is open to all students who play an orchestral instrument and who qualify after auditions. The group holds weekly rehearsals and prepares concerts. DIVISION OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

Professor James S. Prentice, Chairman

CONTEMPORARY CIVILIZATION — POLITICAL SCIENCE
ECONOMICS — PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION
HISTORY — SOCIOLOGY—ANTHROPOLOGY

Special Major in American Civilization

The Departments of American Literature, History, and Political Science sponsor a Major in American Civilization designed with reference to the needs of students who desire during their college course to acquire a broad and comprehensive knowledge of the history, institutions, and culture of their country rather than to specialize in any one particular department. The major comprehends the following required courses which, as far as possible, should be taken in the order designated: First year: Pol. Sc. 11; Second year: Hist. 22, Am. Lit. 21, Geog. 25.1 and 36.2; Third year: Hist. 36, Am. Lit. 31, Sociol. 12.1; Fourth year: Pol. Sc. 40 or 41, Am. Lit. 44.1, Fine Arts 36.1 and Research Course 50 in one of the three departments.

Required General Examination: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, and reading lists.

Special Major in the Social Studies for Teaching

A special major in social studies for teaching is offered because high school teachers of social studies must draw on knowledge from several different departments. This major provides for a maximum of sixty-three hours in social studies and eighteen hours in education leaving considerable freedom of choice for the balance of the student's program. Details of the program for this major may be procured from the members of the Department of Psychology and Education.

Required General Examination: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, and reading lists.

CONTEMPORARY CIVILIZATION

Professor Heinrichs
Associate Professor Hoag

Required of all students in their freshman year.

44.2 Government Finance Spring semester
Principles and practices relating to government expenditures, raising revenue, budgeting, tax incidence and effects. The use of public credit. Econ. 21 and 49.1. Open to majors in Political Science). Mr. Klein

[47.1 National Income]

49.1 Business Cycles and Fiscal Policy Fall semester
A theoretical examination into the nature, causes and effects of business cycles. (Econ. 21 and 35.1.) Mr. Klein

50 Honors Course
To be arranged for qualified students as need arises.

60 Economic Thought and Modern Economic Tendencies
A study of economic thought in the light of economic history. Present tendencies in economic theory. This course is required of all majors in Economics in satisfaction of the General Examination requirement.

B. Courses in Business Economics

[32.1 Public Utilities]

[33.2 Marketing]

34.1 Corporate Finance Fall semester
The financial problems of business from the points of view of the management, the investor and the public. (Econ. 21). Mr. LeClair

36.2 Economic Statistics Spring semester
A study of the statistical concepts and their applications to Economics. The course emphasizes training in the analytical and interpretative aspects of the statistics used in Economics. (No student who takes Econ. 36.2 may also take Psych. 27.1, Phys. Ed. 40.1 or Math. 35.1 for credit.) (Econ. 21.) Mr. LeClair

37.1 Principles of Accounting Fall semester
The theory of accounts; classification and interpretation of accounts; the income statement and balance sheet; proprietorship accounting. (Econ. 21.) Mr. Smith

37.2 Principles of Accounting Spring semester

The problem of accounting for partnerships and corporations; accounting for costs. (Economics 21, and 37.1.) Mr. Smith

41.1 Labor Problems and Public Policy Fall semester

The derivation of labor problems; the labor movement and its history; collective bargaining; the organization and procedure to which labor relations give rise. (Economics 21.) Mr. LeClair

[41.2 The State in Relation to Labor]

42.2 Social Control of Economic Activity Spring semester

A study of the major areas of governmental control of economic activity; the legal and economic bases for control; legal and administrative problems associated with the mechanisms of control. (Econ. 21.) Mr. LeClair

61 Economics of Business Management

A study of the application of the principles of Economics to the decisions of management. This course is required of all majors in Business Economics in satisfaction of the General Examination requirement.

HISTORY

Associate Professor Davison
Assistant Professor Tillinghast
Assistant Professor Reynolds

Professor Prentice
Miss Hughes

Required for all History majors: History 12, History 22, History 60 and two other year courses or their equivalent in the department, plus two cognate courses as noted below.

a) Students specializing in American History are required to take History 36, and two year courses from among the following: Political Science 11, Geography 25.1 and 36.2, and Economics 21. In addition, History 32 and American Literature 21 are recommended.

b) Students specializing in European History are required to take two other year courses or their equivalent in European History and two year courses from among the following: Political Science 11, Geography 25.1–35.2, Economics 21. In addition, Russian 25.2 is recommended.

The requirement of the General Examination will be satisfied by passing History 60 with its final examination.

12.1 History of Western Europe Fall semester

From 800 to 1600. Mr. Tillinghast

12.2 History of Western Europe Spring semester

Continuation of 12.1. The period from 1600 to 1914. (Hist. 12.1.) Mr. Tillinghast

13.1 Ancient History — Fall semester
The Near East and Greece to the rise of Macedonia. — Miss Hughes

13.2 Ancient History — Spring semester
Continuation of 33.1. The Hellenistic Near East and Rome. — Miss Hughes

22.1 American History, 1783–1860 — Fall semester
(Not open to Freshmen.) — Mr. Reynolds

22.2 American History, 1860–1940 — Spring semester
Continuation of 22.1. (Hist. 22.1.) — Mr. Reynolds

23.1 Modern English History — Fall semester
From the Tudor period to the end of the first British Empire in 1783. — Mr. Davision

23.2 Modern English History — Spring semester
Continuation of 23.1. The nineteenth and twentieth centuries. — Mr. Davison

32.1 Economic History of the United States — Fall semester
European backgrounds, and the American colonial and national periods. (Hist. 12.2 or permission.) — Mr. Prentice

32.2 Economic History of the United States — Spring semester
Continuation of 32.1. (Hist. 32.1.) — Mr. Prentice

34.1 Modern Europe, 1815–1870 — Fall semester
(Hist. 12.2.) — Mr. Davison

34.2 Modern Europe, 1870–1939 — Spring semester
Continuation of 34.1. (Hist. 34.1.) — Mr. Davison

36.1 American Thought and Culture — Fall semester
The colonial and early national period. (Hist. 22.1 or 32.1 or Am. Lit. 21.1.) — Mr. Reynolds

36.2 American Thought and Culture — Spring semester
Continuation of 36.1. From the Civil War to the present. (Hist. 36.1 or permission.) — Mr. Reynolds

38.1 Latin American History and Civilization — Fall semester
Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. — Mr. Tillinghast

38.2 Latin American History and Civilization — Spring semester
Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. — Mr. Tillinghast

39.1 Historical Method Fall semester
A course for students who intend to teach or to do graduate work. Mr. Reynolds

41.1 Contemporary World History Fall semester
A survey of the problems of Europe arising out of the first World War. Mr. Davison

41.2 Contemporary World History Spring semester
Continuation of 41.1. Contemporary history of the Far East. Mr. Davison

45.1 Intellectual History of Europe Fall semester
A course stressing the development of ideas from the breakup of the Roman Empire to the twentieth century. Juniors and Seniors. Mr. Tillinghast

45.2 Intellectual History of Europe Spring semester
Continuation of 45.1. (45.1.) Mr. Tillinghast

47.2 American Colonial History Spring semester
A study of the development of American insitutions from the beginning of European Settlement to the Revolutionary War. Juniors and Seniors. Mr. Reynolds

50.1 and .2 Fall and Spring semesters
Independent study for majors in the department. Staff

60 Philosophy of History
A broader survey of history in general than can be attempted in any more specialized course. Its purpose is to sum up the student's historical knowledge, and to apply it to key historical situations from the beginnings of civilization down to our own time. Required of Seniors majoring in History; open to other seniors by permission.
Mr. Tillinghast, Mr. Reynolds

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Professor Bogart
Mr. Thurber
Mr. Wheeler

Professor Heinrichs
Associate Professor Hoag

Required for a Major: 11.1, 11.2, 60, and four other semester courses in the department; Economics 21.1, 21.2.

Recommended: American Literature 21.1, 21.2; Economics 36.2, 41.1, 42.2, 44.2; Geography 25.1, 25.2; History 12.2, 12.2, 22.1, 22.2, or 32.1, 32.2; Psychology 11.1, 11.2; and Sociology 12.1. Other courses may be recommended to fit the purposes of individual students.

Cognate programs for the major in Political Science may range over a broad field and may be planned variously to meet differing purposes of students. The required Economics course should be taken in the sophomore year. It is desired that at least one course in Political Science be elected each year.

The requirement of the General Examination will be satisfied by passing Political Science 60, with its final examination.

11.1 GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES Fall semester

General introductory course, based on a study of the national government and the state and local governments, their basic theories, formation, structure, powers and operation, and their relations with each other; references to political principles and other systems of government. Limited to 180 students.

Mr. BOGART, Mr. THURBER, Mr. WHEELER

11.2 GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES Spring semester

Continuation of 11.1. (Pol. Sci. 11.1 or Permission.) Limited to 180 students.

Mr. BOGART, Mr. THURBER, Mr. WHEELER

20 INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Principles of international politics; foreign policies of the major powers, with the necessary historical background; international implications of democracy, fascism and communism. (Pol. Sci. 11.1, 11.2.) Mr. HEINRICHS

21.1 LOCAL GOVERNMENT Spring semester

Rural and urban units of local jurisdiction, including townships, counties, special purpose districts, regional districts, villages, cities and city-county organization. Powers and limitations, and the significance of their place in American affairs. Relevant comparisons with local government in other countries. (Pol. Sci. 11.1, 11.2.) Mr. BOGART

22.1 COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENT Fall semester

Comparative analysis of selected foreign governments, with emphasis on structure, operation and underlying political bases. Great Britain and the Soviet Union. (Political Science 11.1, 11.2.) Mr. THURBER

22.2 COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENT Spring semester

Continuation of 22.1. France, Germany, Canada, and other selected countries. (Political Science 22.1.) Mr. THURBER

[33.1 ADMINISTRATION]

33.2 ADMINISTRATION Fall semester

Principles involved, followed by an analysis of various problems encountered by administrators. Comparisons of administration and administrative problems in public jurisdictions and private institutions. (Political Science 11.1, 11.2.)

Mr. BOGART

35.1 Politics and Governments of the Far East Fall semester

Development of politics and government of China; significant aspects of Chinese culture; relations between China and the West; rise of the Chinese Republic; current problems. (Pol. Sci. 11.1, 11.2) Mr. Hoag

35.2 Politics and Governments on the Far East Spring semester

Continuation of 35.1. Development of politics and government of Japan from earliest times to the problem of American occupation. Consideration of related political problems of Southeast Asia. (Pol. Sci. 35.1.) Mr. Hoag

[36.1 Foreign Policy of the United States]

[36.2 Foreign Policy of the United States]

40.1 American Politics and Legislation Fall semester

The theory of politics; political parties, interest groups, the electoral system and their function in the initiation and control of government policies. (Pol. Sci. 11.1, 11.2.) Mr. Wheeler

40.2 American Politics and Legislation Spring semester

Legislative organization and the law-making process, with emphasis on the function of the power groups studied in the first semester. Closely related to current legislative proceedings. (Pol. Sci. 40.1.) Mr. Wheeler

41.1 United States Constitutional Law Fall semester

The development and growth of the Constitution through a study of selected Supreme Court decisions and assigned readings. Emphasis upon the political, social and economic causes and consequences of constitutional change brought about through the operation of judicial review of legislation. Open to Juniors and Seniors. (Pol. Sci. 11.1, 11.2 and permission.) Mr. Bogart

41.2 United States Constitutional Law Spring semester

Continuation of 41.1. (Pol. Sci. 41.1 and permission.) Mr. Bogart

42.1 International Government Fall semester

Problems of and possibilities for the development of international organization and international law; study of past and present international organizations with special reference to the United Nations; advanced study of relations between national states as they affect international government. (Pol. Sci. 11.1, 11.2) Mr. Wheeler

42.2 International Government Spring semester

Continuation of 42.1. (Pol. Sci. 41.1) Mr. Wheeler

44.1 Research Problems in Government Fall semester

Seminar for selected students, providing an opportunity for advanced study on topics of particular interest to them; instruction in research procedures and requirements, and critical participation in class reporting of research results. (Permission.) Mr. Bogart

44.2 Research Problems in Government Spring semester
Continuation of 44.1 (Permission.) Mr. Bogart

60 Theory of the State
A course in political theory, designed to integrate and to broaden the students' understanding of the more specialized aspects of political institutions dealt with in other courses, as well as to extend the understanding of the relations between political and other social institutions and problems. This is undertaken by investigating the development of political ideas and concepts; major contributions to the explanation of the political organization of society; to include the European heritage of thought, principle American ideas, and the problems of the 20th century. Required of all seniors majoring in Political Science, in satisfaction of the General Examination requirement; open to other seniors by permission. Mr. Thurber

PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION

Associate Professor Valentine
Mr. Ewell
Mr. Harshbarger
Mrs. Harshbarger

Psychology

Required for a Major in Psychology: 11.1, .2, 27.1, .2, 28.1, 35.1, .2, 38, 60, Biology 11.2 and 23.1, Mathematics 11.1, .2 or 12.1, .2, Philosophy 23.1, .2, Sociology 23.2. The selection of cognate courses will depend upon the student's purposes in majoring in psychology.

The requirement of the General Examination will be satisfied by passing Psychology 60 with its final examination.

11.1 General Psychology (Introductory Course) Fall semester
A general introduction to psychology with emphasis on the scientific and historical background of psychology, scientific method in psychology, and psychology's place with relation to philosophy and the physical and social sciences. Topics discussed include perception, motivation, learning, and psychological differences between individuals. Mr. Ewell, Mr. Valentine

11.2 General Psychology (Introductory Course) Spring semester
Continuation of 11.1. (Psych. 11.1.) Mr. Ewell, Mr. Valentine

27.1 Tests and Measurements—Elementary Statistical Concepts Fall semester
An introduction to the nature of measurement, the characteristics of a frequency distribution, the measurement of central tendency and variability, the properties of the normal distribution, the measurement of correlation, and the problem of sampling. (Math. 11.1, .2 or 12.1, .2 or permission.) (No Student who takes Psych. 27.1 may also take Econ. 36.2, Phys. Ed. 40.1 or Math. 35.1 for credit.)

Mr. VALENTINE

27.2 TESTS AND MEASUREMENTS—PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS Spring semester
A discussion of the main types of psychological tests, with emphasis on tests of intelligence and personality. Students are given opportunity to gain some experience in administering intelligence tests under supervision. The theoretical principles underlying psychological tests are considered, and the student is introduced to the principles and theories of test construction. (Psych. 27.1.)
Mr. EWELL

28.1 CHILD AND ADOLESCENT PSYCHOLOGY Fall semester
A study of human development, in all its aspects, from conception through adolescence. Emphasis on environmental influences. Readings and discussions will be supplemented by appropriate films. (Psych. 11.1, .2) Mr. HARSHBARGER

35.1 EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY Fall semester
A discussion of the techniques and methods of psychology and psychological research, including the psychophysical methods, and methods used for studying perception and the thought processes. Contemporary and historical research findings are reviewed with respect to content and application of psychological methodology. (Psych. 11.1, .2, 27.1, or permission) 2 hrs. lect., 2 hrs. lab.—3 credits. Laboratory fee, $5.
Mr. EWELL

35.2 SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY Spring semester
A discussion of certain problems arising from attempts to study scientifically the behavior of individuals in interaction with one another, a presentation of certain theoretical positions and research methods employed in the study of such behavior, and a review of representative findings. Major attention is given the study of social attitudes. (Psych. 11.1, .2, 27.1, 35.1, or permission.) Mr. VALENTINE

36.1 PERSONNEL PSYCHOLOGY Fall semester
The application of certain psychological concepts and techniques to problems of selection, training, evaluation, efficiency, morale, communication, supervision and organization. The emphasis throughout is on the contributions of psychology on the level of theory and research. (Psych. 11.1, .2, 27.1, or permission.) Mr. VALENTINE

38 PERSONALITY AND PSYCHOPATHOLOGY
A survey of the dynamics of personality organization. Systematic theories of personality—Freud, Jung, Adler, Rank, Sullivan, Horney, and Fromm—are discussed and evaluated in light of experimental and clinical evidence. Their implications are explored for their contribution to the understanding of psychological illness and personality deviation. (Psych. 11.1, .2 and permission.) Mr. EWELL comparison of non-literate cultures. Implications of the data of cultural anthrolopogy for the understanding of our own culture. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc.)

Mr. Sholes

[31.1 The Community]
The Community seen primarily in ecological perspective. Analysis and comparison of different kinds of communities in literate and non-literate societies. Community planning. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

[31.2 Social Stratification]
The social dimension of dominance and submission. Biological foundations. Fundamentals of class and caste organization and relationship to selected social and psychical factors. Analysis and comparison of status systems in literate and non-literate societies. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. or Soc.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

32.1 Socio-Cultural Change Fall semester
Society and culture viewed in dynamic perspective. Principles of socio-cultural change derived mainly from selected studies of acculturation. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc.) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56.
Mr. Nash

32.2 Survey of Social Thought Spring semester
A survey of Man's ideas about society, with emphasis upon the views of such thinkers as Confucious, the early Hindus, Plato, Aristotle, the Scholastics, Comte, Durkheim, Pareto, Weber, Sumner, Merton, etc. Implications of their ideas for the study and planning of societies. Relationship of these ideas to the society in which they arose. (Juniors and Seniors)
Mr. Nash

34.1 Majority-Minority Group Relations (Seminar) Fall semester
Prejudice and discrimination against minority groups in literate and non-literate societies seen in social-psychological perspective. (1 yr. of Psych. or Soc. and permission.)
Mr. Nash

35.2 Social Psychology of the Arts Spring semester
The arts as a variety of culture. Social and psychical factors influencing the creation, distribution and perception of the art object. Analysis of materials from literate and non-literate societies. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc. and permission.) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56.
Mr. Nash

[36.2 Social Psychology of Religion]
Religion as a variety of culture. Social and psychical factors influencing religious conceptions and behavior. Analysis of materials from literate and non-literate societies. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc. and permission.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

41.2A Marriage and the Family Spring semester

A study of the family as a social institution and of marriage as a medium of social expression. (Juniors and Seniors) Mr. Sholes

41.2B Courtship, Marriage and Family Problems (Seminar) Fall and Spring semesters

(Permission and advance arrangement for a limited number of Seniors. Students taking Soc. 41.2A may not take Soc. 41.2B.) Mr. Sholes

[42.1 Personality and Culture] Fall semester

Development and Modification of the personality in terms of the culture and subcultures in which one grows and functions. Especial emphasis upon materials from non-literate societies. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

43.1 Criminology and Penology Fall semester

A study of crime in American society and the factors associated with criminal behavior. Examination of penalties and treatments. Fee $5. (A total of 1 yr. of Soc. and/or Psych.) Mr. Sholes

46.1 Social Problems Fall semester

The case study approach to a selected number of social problems which the community and state have sought to treat and control. (A total of 1 yr. of Psych. and/or Soc.) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Sholes

46.2 Theory and Methods of Social Work Spring semester

A course for advanced students interested in, or preparing for, work in social work agencies. The study of the aims and work methods of social work agencies. (Soc. 46.1) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Sholes

50.1 and 50.2 Advanced Individual Study Fall and Spring semesters

Majors only, by permission. Staff

60.2 Methods of Social Research Spring semester

An intensive analysis of sociological research methods. Actual application of research methods to a selected research problem conducted by the seminar. Staff

Program for High School Teachers of Science

The Departments of Biology, Chemistry and Physics each offers a special major for students desiring to prepare for high school teaching. This major provides a thorough grounding in the individual science studied, and an acquaintanceship with the other natural sciences. Details of the program may be learned from the chairmen of the respective departments.

BIOLOGY

Associate Professor Hitchcock
Mr. Chute
Mr. Woodin

Required for a major: Biol. 11.1, 11.2, 21.1, 22.2, 44.1, and three electives; Chemistry 10 or 11.

Recommended: Mathematics 11 or 12, Chemistry 23.

Joint major in Biology and Chemistry: Biol. 11.2, 21.1, 44.1 and two electives; Chem. 10 or 11, 21.1, 23, 31.2, and 60.2; Mathematics 11 or 12; Physics 21.

Majors in Biology and joint majors in Biology and Chemistry must have a reading knowledge of French or German or Russian. This requirement may be met by the completion of the normal second-year college language course or by a reading test set by the language department.

Required General Examination: Students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, and reading lists. Joint majors in Biology and Chemistry meet the requirement by passing Biol. 44.1 and Chem. 60.2, with their final examinations.

11.1 Botany — Fall and Spring semesters

A study of plant life with emphasis on anatomy, physiology and development of the seed plants. 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10. No prerequisite.
Mr. Woodin

11.2 Zoology — Fall and Spring Semesters

Correlation of structure and function in representative animals; developmental processes; elementary genetics; theories of evolution. 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10. No prerequisite. Mr. Hitchcock 21.1 Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates — Fall semester.

A study of vertebrate structure, adaptation and evolution. Dissection of representative types. (Biol. 11.2) 3 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10
Mr. Hitchcock

22.2 Plant Morphology Spring Semester

Advanced botany built around a comparative survey of the structure, reproduction and relationships of the major groups of plants. (Biol. 11.1) 2 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10. Mr. Woodin

23.1 Human Physiology Fall semester

Elementary study of structure and function of circulatory, respiratory, digestive, excretory, nervous, endocrine and reproductive systems of the human body. (Biol. 11.2) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $5. Mr. Chute

24.2 Comparative Embryology Spring semester

General Principles of animal development, with emphasis on vertebrate types. Detailed laboratory study of early development of frog and chick. (Biol. 21.1) 3 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $5. Mr. Hitchcock

25.2 Genetics Spring semester

Principles of inheritance in plants and animals, including man. Laboratory study of hereditary mechanisms of the fruit fly. (Biol. 11.1 or 11.2) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $5. Mr. Chute

34.2 Histology and Histologic Technique Spring semester

The microscopic anatomy of cells and tissues. Laboratory study of the methods of preparing biological materials for study. (Biol. 11.2; Biol. 21.1 recommended) 2 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $5. Mr. Chute

36.1 Principles of General Ecology Fall semester

Relations of plants and animals to environments and to each other. Laboratory and field studies of Biotic relationships. (Biol. 11.1, 11.2) 2 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10. Offered in alternate years; to be omitted in 1955–56. Mr. Woodin

[35.1 General Bacteriology]

General principles of bacteriology. (Biol. 11.1 or Chem. 23.) 2 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56. Laboratory fee $5.

44.1 General Physiology Fall semester

The cell as the functional unit of living material; its chemical and physical properties. Kinetics of living systems, including metabolism, irritability, conduction, contraction, and cell division. (Biol. 21.1; Chem. 10 or 11; Chem. 23 recommended. Seniors or permission.) 3 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10. and breakage. Mr. Chute

50.1 and 50.2 Advanced Study Fall and Spring semesters

For honors students and majors in Biology. (Permission.) Fee of $10 per semester. Staff

CHEMISTRY

Associate Professor HARNEST
Assistant Professor MOYER
Mr. ROBERTS
Mr. POOL
Miss BOESCH

Required for a Major: 10 or 11, 21.1, 23, 31, 60.2, and two other semester courses in the department; Mathematics 11 or 12.

Required for a Certified Major: Students who wish to be certified by the American Chemical Society may complete a major in Chemistry with the following courses: 10 or 11, 21.1, 23, 31, 41, and two other semester courses in the department; Mathematics 11 or 12, and 21; Physics 21; a reading knowledge of German is required. German 22 is recommended. This language requirement may be met by completion of the normal second-year college course or by a reading test. The certified major is designed to qualify a student for advanced work in graduate school or for positions in chemical industry.

Joint major in Biology and Chemistry. Required for a Major: Biology 11.2, 21.1, 44.1, and two electives: Chemistry 10 or 11, 21.1, 23, 31.2, and 60.2; Mathematics 11 or 12; Physics 21. Joint Majors in Chemistry and Biology must have a reading knowledge of French or German or Russian. This requirement may be met by the completion of the normal second-year college language course, or by a reading test set by the language department.

Effective with the class of 1956, not more than 42 semester hours in the department may be counted for graduation.

Students wishing to become high school teachers of science with concentration in Chemistry should ask Mr. Harnest for details of the special program.

For the Certified Major, the requirement of the General Examination will be satisfied by passing Chem. 41 with its final examination; for the General Major, the requirement will be satisfied by passing Chem. 60.2 with its final examination.

Joint majors in Biology and Chemistry will satisfy the requirement of the General Examination by passing Biol. 44.1 and Chem. 60.2 with their final examinations.

The Chemistry department is accredited by the Committee on the Professional Training of Chemists of the American Chemical Society and designs a program of study to meet the recommendations of that committee. The courses provide a thorough training in the fundamentals of Chemistry and its relation to other scientific fields, medicine, engineering, and related subjects. Students completing this program satisfactorily will be adequately qualified for advanced work in graduate schools or positions in chemical industry. Majors should have their programs approved by the Chairman of the department early in their college course if they wish to be accredited by the Society.

A deposit fee to cover cost of broken apparatus is charged in each laboratory course, to be paid to the Treasurer at the beginning of each term.

10.1 INTRODUCTORY GENERAL CHEMISTRY Fall semester

This course is similar in general plan and content to Chemistry 11, but designed for those who have had no previous chemical training or whose chemical training is inadequate for 11. With frequent conferences, problem drill, and individual attention, the student is brought to the sophomore level at the end of two terms. 3 hrs. lect., 4 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage. Miss BOESCH

10.2 Introductory General Chemistry Spring semester

Continuation of 10.1. Same hours, credits and fees as 10.1. (Chem. 10.1.)

Miss Boesch

11.1 General Chemistry Fall semester

Fundamental principles of chemistry; study of the elements, their compounds, reactions, etc., including a historical, philosophical background; the more recent industrial processes and applications; elementary qualitative analysis. Problem drill, conferences; 3 hrs. lect., 4 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage.

Mr. Moyer, Mr. Roberts

11.2 General Chemistry Spring semester

Continuation of 11.1. Same hours, credits and fees as for 11.1. (Chem. 11.1.)

Mr. Moyer, Mr. Roberts

21.1 Qualitative Analysis Fall semester

Elementary chemical theory, theory of solutions, equilibrium, reactions in solution; laboratory work in semi-micro qualitative analysis. (Chem. 10.2 or 11.2; Math. 11.2) 3 hrs. lect., 4 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage. Mr. Pool

23.1 Introductory Organic Chemistry Fall semester

Chemistry of the carbon compounds, both aliphatic and aromatic. Electronic and structural theory, organic synthesis, analysis and functional behavior of the important classes of compounds. (Chem. 10.2 or 11.2.) 3 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $12 and breakage. Mr. Harnest

23.2 Introductory Organic Chemistry Spring semester

Continuation of 23.1. Same hours, credits, and fees as for 23.1. (Chem. 23.1.)

Mr. Harnest

31.1 Quantitative Analysis Fall semester

Lectures and laboratory work. Theories of analytical chemistry and general methods of gravimetric analysis with emphasis on accuracy and technique. (Chem. 21.1.) 2 or 3 hrs. lect., 8 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage. Miss Boesch

31.2 Quantitative Analysis Spring semester

Continuation of 31.1. Laboratory work is chiefly volumetric analysis with some training in electrolytic procedures. This course may precede 31.1. (Chem. 21.1.) Lectures, lab. hrs. lab. fees, and credits the same as for 31.1. Miss Boesch

41.1 Physical Chemistry Fall semester

Modern chemical theory extending and coordinating earlier courses. Physical states of matter, chemical thermodynamics, solutions, homogeneous equilibria. Heterogeneous and ionic equilibria, kinetics, electro chemistry, colloids, atomic and molecular structure. A knowledge of physics, the calculus, elementary organic chemistry, and quantitative techniques is required. Open to Physics majors by permission. Required of all certified majors in fulfillment of the requirement of the general examination. (Chem. 21.1, 23.2, 31.2; Physics 21.1, 21.2; Math. 21.1 and 21.2.) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage.

Mr. Roberts

41.2 Physical Chemistry Spring semester

Continuation of 41.1. Required of all certified majors in fulfillment of the requirement of the general examination. Same hours, credits, and fees as for 41.1. (Chem. 41.1.)
Mr. Roberts

42.1 Biochemistry Fall semester

Chemistry, digestion, absorption, and metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, amino acids, nucleoproteins and nucleic acids. (Chem. 23.2; Biol. 11.2 and Chem. 31.2 recommended.) 3 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage.
Mr. Moyer

42.2 Biochemistry Spring semester

Chemistry and physiology of vitamins, hormones, enzymes, and blood; chemistry of respiration, acid-base regulation; calorimetry, immuno-chemistry, and chemotherapy; qualitative and quantitative clinical procedures employed in the analysis of blood, urine, other body fluids, and animal tissues. (Chem. 42.1 or permission.) Lectures, lab. hrs. lab. fees, and credits the same as for 42.1.
Mr. Moyer

43.1 Advanced Organic Chemistry Fall semester

Characterization of various types of organic compounds. Practice in qualitative analysis, separation of mixtures, and quantitative determination of elements and functional groups. Relation of physical properties and chemical constitution, functionalism and structure, analytical methods and syntheses. (Chem. 23.2, 31.2.) 2 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $12 and breakage.
Mr. Harnest

43.2 Advanced Organic Chemistry Spring semester

Studies in advanced synthesis; electronic theory; reaction mechanisms; molecular rearrangements; cyclic and polynuclear compounds; naturally occurring substances. Laboratory work in advanced synthesis, including individual projects. (Chem. 43.1 or permission.) 3 hrs. lect., 6 hrs. lab., lab. fees, and credits the same as for 43.1.
Mr. Harnest

49.1 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry Fall semester

Atomic and molecular structure, periodicity of the elements, coordination compounds, poly-acids, hydrogen and the hydrides, inorganic free radicals, non-metallic oxides. Laboratory work in advanced synthesis. (Chem. 21.1; Math. 11 or 12; Chem. 31.2 recommended.) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $10 and breakage.
Mr. Pool

49.2 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry Spring Semester

Recent chemistry of metals and non-metals, interhalogen compounds, peracids, carbonyls, intermetallic compounds, non-aqueous systems. Theory and technique of chemical spectroscopy and microscopy. (Chem. 49.1 or permission.) Lectures, lab. hrs., lab. fees, and credits same as for 49.1. Mr. Pool

55.1 and 55.2 Research Fall and Spring semesters

Open to properly qualified students. Required of candidates for the Master's degree. (Permission.) Laboratory fee, $12 per semester and breakage. Staff

a. Analytical Chemistry
b. Inorganic Chemistry
c. Physical Chemistry
d. Organic and Biochemistry

60.2 Chemical Principles Spring semester

Introduction to Physical Chemistry and physicochemical measurements. The course is designed to extend and coordinate earlier courses in chemistry and is required of all chemistry and joint biology-chemistry majors who do not register for 41.1 and 41.2. This course fulfills the General Examination requirement for these majors. (Chem. 21.1, 23.1, 23.2, 31.2) 3 hrs. lect., 4 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee $10 and breakage. Mr. Pool

GEOLOGY, GEOGRAPHY, DRAFTING

Professor Schmidt
Associate Professor Illick
Mr. Wilkens
Mr. Fusaro

Geology

Required for a Major: 21.1, 21.2, 30.1, 31.1, 31.2, 33.2, 41.1, the general examination, six additional credits in Geology; Chemistry 10.1, 10.2 or 11.1, 11.2, Geography 25.1, 25.2, and either Geography 40.2 or Drafting 28.1.

Recommended: Additional courses in Geology, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, languages, and Summer Field Course are recommended for those applying to graduate schools.

The General Examination: Students will be prepared by conferences and reading lists.

21.1 Physical Geology Fall semester

The physical features of the earth; the agencies responsible for our topography; the structure of the earth's crust; and the more important rocks and minerals. 3 hrs. lecture, 3 hrs. lab., and field trips.—4 credits. Field trip fee, $6.

Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Wilkens

21.2 Historical Geology Spring semester

The origin of the earth and its physical changes during geologic time; the rise and evolution of organic forms as disclosed by fossils, and the causes for this progressive development; how the continents and climates have changed during geologic time; when our mountains and natural resources were formed. 3 hrs. lecture, 3 hrs. lab., and field trips. (Geol. 21.1.) 4 credits. Field trip fee, $4. Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Wilkens

30.1 Invertebrate Paleontology Fall semester

A study of invertebrate fossils, their structures, comparison with living types, habitat, evolution, geologic significance, and use for correlating strata. (Geol. 21.2.) 2 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab., Lab. fee, $3. Mr. Schmidt

31.1 Mineralogy Fall semester

The identification of the important minerals by blowpipe, flame, bead, and sensitive chemical tests, and study of the crystal structure of the minerals. Field trips. Limited to ten students. (Geology 21.1 or Chemistry 11.1.) Laboratory fee, $5. Mr. Schmidt

31.2 Economic Geology Spring semester

Geologic origin, use, and world distribution of fuels, non-metallic, and metallic minerals. Discussion of prospecting, drilling, mining, milling, and concentration methods. used. Special emphasis will be given to the resources of the United States and the Western Hemisphere in strategic essential minerals. (Geology 21.2, 31.1, or permission.) Field trip fee, $5. Mr. Schmidt

32.1 Geology of Eastern North America Fall semester

A detailed survey of the geologic history, rock structures, and mineral deposits of central and eastern North America. Classroom discussion, outside reading in geologic literature, and reports. (Geol. 21.2.) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Wilkens

32.2 Geology of Western North America Spring Semester

Continuation of 32.1, with the same method. (Geol. 21.2.) Mr. Wilkens

[33.1 Optical Mineralogy] Fall semester

Study of the optical properties of minerals found in igneous, metamorphic or sedimentary rocks, and associated with mineral ore deposits by means of index liquids, and microscopic study of mineral and rock thin sections. Limited to ten students. (Geology 21.1, 31.1.) 4 credits. Laboratory fee, $5. Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Wilkens

33.2 Petrology Spring semester

Study of the origin, mineral composition, and classification of igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic rocks by megascopic study of hand specimens, and by microscopic study of rock thin sections. (Geology 21.1,31.1.) 4 credits. Laboratory fee, $5. Mr. Wilkens

41.1 Structural Geology — Fall semester
Limited to students majoring in Geology. Mr. Wilkens

[41.2 Field Geology] — Spring semester
Continuation of 41.1. (Geol. 41.1.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Wilkens

50.1 and 50.2 Advanced Study or Honors Work — Fall and Spring semesters
A course for majors and honor students in Geology. Staff

Geography

Required for a Major: 25.1, 25.2, 34.1 or 40.2, three of the four regional courses: 35.1, 35.2, 36.1, 36.2, and one additional semester course in Geography; Geology 21.1, 21.2; English 28.1, and Drama 11.2.

Cognate courses for a major in Geography range over a broad field and should be selected from other departments according to one's interest in Geography, and with the approval of the advisor.

Two years of a foreign language and a summer field camp are recommended for those applying to graduate schools.

Required General Examination: Students will be prepared by seminars, reading lists, and field trips, during the last semester of the senior year.

25.1 Elements of Geography — Fall semester
Study of the major component elements of the geographic landscape and the interpretation and significance of their areal association through the consideration of maps, climate, landforms, natural resources, etc. One 2-hour laboratory a week. Hours to be arranged. Mr. Illick

25.2 Economic Geography — Spring semester
Regional and occupational study of the countries and peoples of the world. Understanding of national and occupational interrelationships is gained by examination of population pressures, distribution of crops and mineral resources, ports, trade and industrial areas. One 2-hour laboratory a week. Hours to be arranged. (Geog. 25.1.) Field Trip Fee, $2. Mr. Illick

34.1 Meteorology — Fall semester
An introductory course covering the basic principles of weather analysis. Detailed study of atmospheric heat, humidity, pressure, clouds and winds. Interpretation of weather maps, air masses, fronts, storms, weather coding and notation, will be developed by the laboratory method. (A high-school or college course in general physics is recommended.) Mr. Illick

[35.1 Geography of Latin America]
Environmental factors basic to understanding the historical and economic development of Central and South America. Geographic aspects of relationships to the United States and other countries. (Geog. 25.1.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

[35.2 Geography of Europe and North Africa]

An analysis of the geographic regions, climate, landforms, mineral resources, etc., in its bearing upon the current economic, social, and political life of the countries of Europe and North Africa. (Geog. 25.1.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

36.1 Geography of Asia, Africa, and the Australian Region Fall semester

Geographic evaluations of the major regions of these continents and the part they play in international affairs. Emphasis is placed on the Asiatic realm. (Geog. 25.1.) Offered in alternate years, not to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Illick

36.2 Geography of North America Spring semester

Geographic adjustments in various natural regions of the United States and Canada. Problems of agriculture, trade, politics, and life are related to environmental factors. (Geog. 25.1.) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Illick

40.2 Cartography Spring semester

The science and art of map-interpretation and construction. Training is given in compilation and drafting of maps, the construction of physiographic and block diagrams, terrain models, cartograms, land-use and economic maps. Projections, field-sketching and mapping from aerial photographs is also considered. Field trips. Fee $5. One 2-hr. lecture and one laboratory a week. Mr. Illick

50.1 and 50.2 Advanced Study or Honors Work Fall and Spring semesters

A course arranged to suit the needs of students majoring in Geography. (Permission.) Mr. Illick

Drafting

[27.1 Elements of Drafting]

28.1 Engineering Drawing Fall semester

Especially for students electing the cooperative arrangement with M.I.T. This course together with 28.2 is equivalent to similar courses required of all freshmen at M.I.T. Lettering; graphs; projection drawing; dimensioning; technical sketching; working drawings; various curves; graphical integration and differentiation. Instrument fee, $3. Mr. Fusaro

28.2 Geometry of Engineering Drawing Spring semester

Descriptive Geometry presented by the direct method in the solution of problems relating to lines and planes; single-curved, double-curve, and warped surfaces; intersection and development of surfaces. (Draft. 28.1.) Instrument fee, $3. Mr. Fusaro

[38.2 Surveying]

HOME ECONOMICS

Assistant Professor WALL

Miss McCARTHY

Required for a Major: 11.1, 11.2, 31, 33.1, 35.1, plus a minimum of 12 semester hours. Students who are considering a major in this department should consult the chairman early, as certain required courses may not always be available. Cognates are usually selected from the fields of Science, Sociology, Economics, Physical Education, Psychology and the Arts. Required: Physical Education 36.2; Sociology 41.2; Chemistry 10 or 11.

Students planning to teach Home Economics should consult the Chairman of the department about further preparation which may be necessary.

General Examination Requirement: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, discussion groups, reading lists and other guidance.

11.1 FOODS — Fall semester

Food composition, selection, preparation, and serving. Fundamental cookery processes and service of simple home meals. Complementary to 11.2 but may follow it. Laboratory fee, $10. Miss McCARTHY

11.2 NUTRITION — Spring semester

Fundamentals of nutrition. A study of dietary needs and food values. Food selection and meal planning with emphasis on nutritive value. Complementary to 11.1 but may precede it. Miss McCARTHY

21.1 CLOTHING AND TEXTILES — Fall semester

Survey of textiles; basic fibers, weaves, and construction of fabrics, with emphasis on consumer problems. Fundamental techniques of sewing; use of equipment, commercial patterns and standards of fitting through construction of garments. The aesthetic, hygienic and economic factors involved in clothing selection. Laboratory fee $3. Miss WALL

21.2 CLOTHING AND TEXTILES — Spring semester

Continuation of 21.1. Intermediate techniques. (Home Ec. 21.1.) Laboratory fee $3. Miss WALL

22.1 RELATED ART — Fall semester

A fundamental course in appreciation, including a study of color theory and of the art principles, both abstractly and in their application to problems relating to costume and to interiors. Laboratory fee, $2. Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Miss WALL

31.1 ADVANCED FOODS — Fall semester

Food preservation. The finer aspects of cookery and the application of scientific principles to cookery processes. (Home Ec. 11.1, 11.2; Chem. 10 or 11.) Laboratory fee, $10. Miss McCARTHY

31.2 Advanced Foods Spring semester

Food demonstrations. Food marketing problems and consumer education. Experimental cookery problems. Laboratory fee, $10. Miss McCarthy

33.1 Household Administration Fall semester

Economic problems of the household; consumer buying; standards of living; income management; household budget and accounts; economic position of homemaker; scientific management; heating; lighting; plumbing; equipment. (Home Ec. 11.1 and 11.2 or Econ. 21 or permission.) Miss Wall

34.2 House Planning and Furnishing Spring semester

Study of design principles as applied to houses; color schemes; house plans; grounds. period furniture; fundamental factors involved in choosing appropriate furnishings; (Home Ec. 21, 22.1, 33.1 or permission.) Miss Wall

35.1 Home Management House Fall semester

One term's residence in the Home Management House, with daily participation in planning, buying, accounting, preparation and serving of meals, and care of the house. Conferences and reading assignments. (Permission.) Miss McCarthy

36.2 Community Hygiene and Child Development Spring semester

The community's responsibility to the child; the child and the family; physical growth; motor development; play; mental, emotional, social development; observations at the local Nursery School. Fee, $2.50. Staff

[41.1 Advanced Clothing and Design]

Study of historic costume in relation to design. Development of creative techniques in design through drafting patterns and draping on figures. Construction of garments requiring advanced techniques. Social and economic aspects of clothing. (Home Ec. 21.1, 21.2, desirable 22.1.) Laboratory fee, $5. Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

[41.2 Advanced Clothing and Design]

Continuation of 41.1. (Home Ec. 41.1.) Laboratory fee, $5.

[42.1 Methods of Teaching Home Economics]

Objectives; subject matter as related to community needs; methods of presentation; courses of study; textbooks; equipment; problems of management and of departmental administration. (Five courses in Home Ec.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56. Miss McCarthy

50.1 and 50.2 Special Fall and Spring semesters

Opportunity for senior majors to undertake advanced study according to their needs.

MATHEMATICS

Associate Professor Ballou
Professor Bowker
Professor Hazeltine
Mr. Fusaro

Required for a major: 11.1, .2 or 12.1, .2, 21.1, .2, 33.1, .2, 43.1, .2, 46.1, 60.2, one other course in the Department or Physics 47.1, .2; Physics 21.1, .2. The selection of cognate courses will depend upon the student's purpose in majoring in mathematics.
The requirement of the General Examination will be satisfied by passing course 60.2 with its final examination.

11.1 Elementary Mathematical Analysis — Fall semester
Designed to give a comprehensive survey of the most useful parts of elementary mathematical theory. Elements of college algebra, plane trigonometry, theory of equations, analytic geometry, differential and integral calculus woven into a unified logical structure. Mr. Hazeltine, Mr. Fusaro

11.2 Elementary Mathematical Analysis — Spring semester
Continuation of 11.1 (Math 11.1.) Mr. Hazeltine, Mr. Fusaro

12.1 Elementary Mathematical Analysis, Advanced Course — Fall semester
Designed to meet the needs of students who have had four years of preparatory school mathematics including a complete course in plane trigonometry. Topics indicated above in 11.1 are extended in theory and application. Students for this course will be selected by the Department from those who register for Mathematics 11.1. Mr. Hazeltine

12.2 Elementary Mathematical Analysis, Advanced Course — Spring semester
Continuation of 12.1 (Math 12.1.) Mr. Hazeltine

21.1 Mathematical Analysis—Calculus I — Fall semester
(Math. 11.2 or 12.2.) Mr. Ballou

21.2 Mathematical Analysis—Calculus II — Spring semester
(Math. 21.1.) Mr. Ballou

22.1 Mathematics of Finance — Fall semester
Annuities Certain applied to the theory of investment, the amortization of debts, depreciation, and bond finance. Offered in alternate years, not to be given in 1955–56. Computing machine fee, $6. Mr. Bowker

22.2 Mathematics of Finance—Life Insurance — Spring semester
Life Annuities developed through the mathematical theory of probability and applied to the mathematics of life insurance. Offered in alternate years, not to be given in 1955–56. Computing machine fee $6. (Math 22.1) Mr. Bowker

33.1 Mathematical Analysis—Calculus III Fall semester
(Math. 21.2.) Mr. Hazeltine

33.2 Differential Equations Spring semester
A treatment of ordinary differential equations including the principal types of first and second order equations, simultaneous equations, and linear equations with constant coefficients. Special emphasis is placed on those forms of equations which are used in advanced work in the sciences. (Math. 21.2.) Mr. Hazeltine

[35.1 Statistical Method]
The fundamentals of statistical analysis (Math 11.2 or 12.2 or permission) Offered in alternate years, to be given in 1955–56. (No student who takes Math 35.1 may also take Econ 36.2, Psych. 27.1, or Phys. Ed. 40.1 for credit.)

[35.2 Mathematical Statistics]
Emphasis on the use of mathematical concepts by statisticians in the study and interpretation of data. (Math 35.1) Offered in alternate years, to be given in 1955–56.

[42.1 Teaching of Preparatory Mathematics]
(Math 21.2) Offered in alternate years, to be given in 1955–56.

43.1 Advanced Calculus I Fall semester
Further topics in the calculus taken from partial differentiation, line integrals, infinite series, vector analysis, limits and continuity. (Math 33.2) Mr. Ballou

43.2 Advanced Calculus II Spring semester
Continuation of 43.1. (Math 43.1) Mr. Ballou

46.1 Survey of Mathematics Fall semester
The development of the number system, both historically and logically. Discussion of topics from algebra and number theory. Supplementary readings. (Math 21.2)
Mr. Bowker

60.2 Spring semester
A course exclusively for majors in mathematics designed to coordinate and extend the mathematics studied at Middlebury. This course fulfills the General Examination Requirement. Staff

PHYSICAL EDUCATION (MEN)

Professor Brown
Associate Professor Kelly
Mr. Nelson

Mr. Sheehan

Required for a Major: Twenty-four hours in the department and Biology 11.2, 31.1.
Recommended: Biology 21.1, Chemistry 10 or 11, English D21.1, D21.2, Psychology 20.1 or Education 21.1, Sociology 21.1.

The requirement of the General Examination will be satisfied by passing course 60.2 with its final examination.

Each man is given a yearly medical examination and periodic check-ups are made when necessary. All physically fit freshmen are required to participate in organized activities at least three periods a week. Two terms of physical education are required for graduation. No academic credit is given for 11.1, 11.2, 12.1, or 12.2.

11.1 Physical Trainiing — Fall semester

Calisthenics, group games, athletics. Emphasis on development of agility, strength and endurance. Physical Tests. Required of freshmen. Staff

11.2 Physical Training — Spring semester

Continuation of 11.1. Required of freshmen. Staff

12.1 Physical Training — Fall semester

Individual exercise or restricted activities. Open to students who need assistance in improving certain physical conditions or who require limited activity. Staff

12.2 Physical Training — Spring semester

Continuation of 12.1. Staff

[21.1 Methods of Teaching]

Theory and practice. A study of gymnastic systems and methods of teaching, calisthenics, and apparatus exercises. Major sports officiating. Practice teaching. Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

[21.2 Organization of Play]

History, nature and function, and methods of teaching play, group games, individual and mass athletics, and combative contests. Practice teaching. Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

22.1 Safety in Physical Education — Fall semester

Safety factors and liabilities for schools and communities. Open to men and women. Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. (Prerequisite: Standard First Aid Certificate.) Mr. Kelly

22.2 Minor Sports — Spring semester

Theory and practice. Rules, fundamentals and methods of teaching. Touch football, volleyball, handball, badminton, softball, squash, tennis and golf. Minor sports officiating. Practice teaching. Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Mr. Kelly

31.1 Athletic Coaching — Fall semester

Football and basketball theory. Fundamentals of play; styles of offense and defense with discussions of their strength and weakness; generalship and strategy. Open to Juniors and Seniors. Mr. Nelson

[31.2 Athletic Coaching]
Theory of hockey, baseball, track and field. Fundamentals and team play in hockey and baseball; discussions of correct form in track and field events; methods of training and conditioning; treatment of athletic injuries. Open to juniors and seniors.

40.1 Introduction to Tests and Measurements Fall semester
The development of tests and statistical measurements in physical education. Open to men and women. (9 credit hours in Phys. Ed., and Educ. 31.1 or Math. 45.1.) (No student who takes Phys. Ed. 40.1 may also take Econ. 36.2, Psych. 27.1 or Math. 35.1 for credit. Mr. Kelly

41.1 Administration of Physical Education Fall semester
Organization and supervision of school and college physical education programs. Administration of inter-school, inter-collegiate and intra-mural athletics. (9 credit hours in physical education.) Mr. Brown

41.2 Administration of Public Recreation Spring semester
Problems which confront the superintendent or director of recreation in cities and rural communities. Layout and equipment; organization and development of activities; publicity. (9 credit hours in physical education.) Mr. Brown

60.2 Special Correlating Course Spring semester
Required of senior majors, for the purpose of integrating the students' whole field of concentration. This course with its final examination satisfies the requirement of the General Examination. Staff

PHYSICAL EDUCATION (WOMEN)

Assistant Professor Tanner
Mrs. Lee
Miss McGlynn

Required for a Major: 15.1, 15.2, 25.1, 25.2, 35.1, 35.2, 45.1, 45.2, 46.1, 46.2, and Biology 11.2, 23.1, Fine Arts 37.1, 37.2.
Courses recommended: Biology 21.1, Chemistry 11.1 and 11.2, English D11.1, D32, Home Economics 11.2, Philosophy 11.1, Psychology 11.1, Sociology 12.1.
Required General Examination: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences and reading lists.
Physical Education 15.1, 15.2, 25.1, 25.2 are required for graduation but carry no academic credit. A yearly medical examination is required of each woman participating in departmental activities.

15.1 Physical Education Fall semester
Technique and skills in seasonal Team Sports. Hygiene. Required of Freshman. Staff

15.2 Physical Education Spring semester
Continuation of 15.1. Introduction to Modern Dance. Staff

25.1 Physical Education Fall semester

Techniques and skills in seasonal Team and Individual Sports, Modern Dance, Folk Dance. Required of Sophomores. Staff

25.2 Physical Education Spring semester

Continuation of 25.1. Staff

35.1 Coaching and Officiating Fall semester

The theory and practise of coaching and officiating seasonal Team Sports. (May follow 35.2) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Miss Tanner

35.2 Coaching and Officiating Spring semester

The theory and practise of coaching and officiating seasonal Team and Individual Sports. (May precede 35.1) Offered in alternate years; not to be given in 1955–56. Miss Tanner

[45.1 Methods of Teaching Health and Physical Education]

[45.2 Methods of Teaching Health and Physical Education]

Continuation of 45.1. (Phys. Ed. 45.1)

[46.1 Recreation Leadership]

Selection and adaptation of play activities to age groups and interests. Preparation for planning social and community recreation programs. Correlation of music, drama, arts and crafts. (Open to men and women) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

[46.2 Recreation Leadership]

Continuation of 46.1. (Phys. Ed. 46.1.) Offered in alternate years; to be given in 1955–56.

[48.1 and 48.2 Physical Education]

Note also: Fine Arts 37.1 and 37.2 Dance as an Art Form and Home Economics 36.2 Community Hygiene and Child Development.

PHYSICS

Professor Wissler
Assistant Professor Chih

Required for a Major: 21.1, 21.2, 31.1, 32.2, 34.1, 42.2, 47.1, 47.2; Chemistry 10 or 11, Mathematics 11, 21.

Required General Examination: students will be prepared by seminars, conferences, and reading lists.

Students wishing to become high school teachers of science with concentration in Physics should ask Mr. Wissler for details of the special program.

[11.1 and 11.2 Introductory General Physics]

21.1 General Physics Fall semester

Introduction to fundamental principles designed for students intending to major in Physics or to continue work in other scientific fields. (Math. 11, or permission.) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $5.

21.2 General Physics Spring semester

Continuation of 21.1. (Physics 21.1.) Hours, credits, and fee same as for 21.1.

31.1 Light Fall semester

Advanced course for those wishing more knowledge than can be obtained from General Physics. Laws of reflection and of refraction with their applications; the wave theory of light; absorption, dispersion, interference, diffraction, and polarization. (Physics 21.2; Math. 21.2, or permission.) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $5.

32.2 Electricity and Magnetism Spring semester

Advanced course covering principles and applications of electric and magnetic fields, measuring instruments and techniques. Kirchoff's laws, D C circuits and an introduction to A C circuits. (Physics 21.2; Math. 21 or permission.) 3 hrs. lect., 3 hrs. lab.—4 credits. Laboratory fee, $5.

34.1 Modern Physics Fall semester

Survey of recent discoveries in physics and theories based upon them: the electron, thermionics, photoelectric effect, X-rays, theory of spectra, atomic structure, radioactivity, nuclear physics and atomic energy. Physics 21.2; Math. 21.2, or permission.)

42.2 Astronomy Spring semester

A senior unit ROTC, organized under the provisions of the National Defense Act of 1916 and amendments thereto, aims to prepare students for a commission in the Regular Army and the Organized Reserve Corps of the United States Army in the arm or service selected. A two-year basic and a two-year advanced course are offered.

The Basic Course

A two-year course is required of all male students except the following:

a. Veterans

(1) A student who has served on active duty in the Armed Forces for six months will be excused from the Freshman Basic Course.

(2) A student who has served on active duty in the Armed Forces for one year will be excused from the entire Basic Course.

b. Former ROTC students

(1) A student who has successfully completed three or more years of the Junior ROTC program at an accredited ROTC institution will be admitted to the Sophomore Basic Course upon presentation of a military training certificate.

(2) A student who has successfully completed the first year of the ROTC Basic Course at another accredited ROTC institution will be admitted to the Sophomore Basic Course.

c. Transfers from other institutions into the Junior year.

d. Non-citizens.

e. Students exempted at the discretion of the President of the College and the Professor of Military Science and Tactics for appropriate reasons.
Students may be excused from drill by the College physician for medical reasons.

The class meets three periods each week, with a minimum of 90 hours in each academic year. Uniforms, arms, and equipment are furnished the student by the Department of the Army.

11.1 and 11.2 Freshman Basic (Military Science I)
Organization of the Army and ROTC; American military history; individual weapons and marksmanship; school of the soldier and exercise of command. Two hours of class, one hour of drill. One credit per semester.

21.1 and 21.2 Sophomore Basic (Military Science II)
Crew-served weapons and gunnery; map and aerial photograph reading; school of the soldier and exercise of command. Two hours of class, one hour of drill. One credit per semester. (MST 11.1 and 11.2 or equivalent service credit).

The Advanced Course

This is a two-year course elective to juniors, and carries three hours credit per semester or twelve hours for the full four semesters. Members of this course are selected by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics and the President of the College. Ex-service personnel may apply in the spring of their sophomore year. Their selection is dependent upon the approval of the officers named above. Draft deferment will be authorized for those who qualify.

Students enrolled in this course will receive uniforms and a daily subsistence allowance not to exceed the value of the garrison ration for the period that classes are scheduled. This subsistence allowance is paid monthly and is established each fiscal year. During recent years it has averaged $27.00 per month. The class meets five periods per week with a minimum of one hundred fifty hours per academic year. Each unexcused absence forfeits two days' pay or approximately $1.80.

Attendance at one summer camp of six weeks duration is mandatory. During such attendance the student is paid at the pay scale of an enlisted man of the Army of the first grade. Mileage at five cents per mile is paid to and from camp. Students will attend camp between the junior and senior academic years, but deferment may be made, for cogent reason, when approved by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics and the Commanding General, First Army.

On successful completion of the course, the student is normally commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, U. S. Army Reserve. Outstanding military students are eligible for direct commission in the Regular Army upon graduation. This course offers a "branch general" military curriculum, which means that the cadet will be given general Army training without reference to any one arm or service. Prior to commissioning, a choice of branch will be made based upon the needs of the Service and the individual's desires and capabilities. Training is primarily directed toward a commission in one of the combat arms—Infantry, Artillery, or Armor. Students whose academic program has particularly qualified them may be offered a commission in one of the technical services—Signal, Engineer, Ordnance, Military Intelligence and others.

Students who enroll in the Advanced Course are required to complete both years; and if tendered a commission, are required to accept it, as a prerequisite for graduation from the College.

31.1 and 31.2 First Year Advanced Course (Military Science III)
Small unit tactics and communications; organization, function and mission of the arms and services; military teaching methods; leadership; school of the soldier and exercise of command. Four hours of class, one hour of drill. Three credits per semester. (MST 21.1 and 21.2 or equivalent service credit).

41.1 and 41.2 Second Year Advanced Course (Military Science IV)
Logistics; operations; military administration and personnel management; service orientation; school of the soldier and exercise of command. (MST 31.1 and 31.2).

ALUMNI

The Associated Alumni, one of the oldest organizations of its type in America, was established in 1824. The preamble to the constitution stated the purpose of the organization in 33 words that could not be better chosen today: "To revive the pleasing recollections of academic life—to cherish a laudable zeal for the advancement of literature and science and particularly for the prosperity of our Alma Mater this association is formed." A separate Alumnae Association for women graduates was formed in 1912.

Both alumni and alumnae hold annual business meetings at the College. Both groups are organized by districts, and regional meetings are held during the year. Although the purpose of these meetings is largely social, the members give active support in forwarding plans and projects of the College. Joint meetings of alumni and alumnae are held in many localities. In communities where the alumnae have separate organizations, meetings are held as frequently as once a month, when programs of educative and social interest are presented.

The business of the Associated Alumni and Alumnae Association is conducted through the offices of the respective secretaries at the College. Biographical information and addresses may be secured through them. An edition of the General Catalogue containing biographical sketches of alumni and alumnae published in 1950 is available. The News Letter, the Middlebury quarterly magazine, is mailed to all alumni and alumnae.

The following places are centers for alumni and alumnae activities: Burlington, Montpelier, Middlebury, and Springfield, Vermont; Boston, Springfield, and Worcester, Massachusetts; Bridgeport, New Haven, and Hartford, Connecticut; Claremont and Concord, New Hampshire; Albany, Buffalo, Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Syracuse, New York City, and Utica, New York; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Los Angeles, California; Washington, D. C.; Chicago, Illinois; Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit, Michigan; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Dallas, Texas.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

LANGUAGE SCHOOLS

The Middlebury College Summer Schools of Language provide a unique opportunity for combining graduate study with a summer spent in the heart of the Green Mountains. The Schools of French, German, Italian, Russian, and Spanish are situated on the college campus; and the School of English at Bread Loaf. Following these, a two-week Writers' Conference is held at Bread Loaf.

The Middlebury College Language Schools were pioneers in the development of segregated, specialized summer schools for the study of modern foreign languages in this country. The central purpose of the schools is to make the language a subjective element in the life of the student by means of close association with the faculty of native instructors, a well-balanced social and academic program, and exclusive use of the foreign language in and out of the classroom.

The School of English offers a selection of courses in literary history, the art of writing, and critical analysis, given by nationally famous instructors. The Writers' Conference provides sound and experienced help and criticism for men and women who desire to write or are interested in the practical background of literature.

During the academic year, the Middlebury College Graduate Schools of French in France and Spanish in Spain provide indispensable guidance in the complexities of advanced study at a foreign university, with the chance to earn an American Master's degree by a year of such foreign study under expert supervision.

Bulletins and further information may be secured from the Language Schools Office, Middlebury College.
